PUBLISHED GA COUNTY HISTORIES ADDITIONS

Mrs. Virginia Barnes of Jackson, MS wrote that HISTORY OF BUTTS CO., GA 1825-1976, published in 1978, was not included in our listing (PUZZLERS 973).
Ken Thomas of Decatur, GA, mentioned this history, and a number of others in print, or soon to be printed.
"CHATTOOGA - one is in the works by Bob Baker, a native of Summerville. Should be out in 1988 their 150th year.
CLAYTON - they did one a year or so ago.
FANNIN - has done a wonderful two-volume series by students, but good as any county history, and recently reprinted the same.
JASPER - did a book.
LEE - by the local historical society about 1984
PEACH - DAR did one about 10 years ago.
SUMTER - ca. 1984 by the local historical society.
WHEELER - I am unclear here if they ever did anything, but think they may have.

You should remind your readers that Mr. (James) Dorsey has updated his book (GEORGIA GENEALOGY AND LOCAL HISTORY - A BIBLIOGRAPHY) each year in the Winter issue of THE GEORGIA HISTORICAL SOCIETY QUARTERLY, and those should be read as part of his book until they are reprinted as a supplement. That is how one picks up on the new county histories."
(Thank you both!)

THOMAS JEFFERSON KIDD'S FAMILY

Mrs. Ernestine Denmark, 434 W. Call St., Starke, FL 32091 sent a copy of a list of the children of Civil War casualty, T.J. Kidd of Jackson Co., GA. He was b. 3-10-1810, and his 1st wife MARTHA STOCKTON b. 6-16-1815.
The list was sent to an aunt "just like it was in the little book", and the aunt wrote the full names presumably from information supplied by her mother, the 9th child, who lived with her. Parents died when the children were young.
Death dates have been added through the years by Mrs. Denmark.

OLD LAND RECORDS OF FRANKLIN COUNTY, AL.

Paperback, 280 pages, maps, full name index. Prepared by Mrs. Margaret Matthews Cowart, 7801 Tea Garden Road SE, Huntsville, AL 35802 - $18.00 postpaid.

Franklin County has suffered several court house fires which destroyed practically all county records before 1890. With the exception of the censuses, these federal records of land sales within the county provide the best remaining records of its early settlers.

When the federal government opened the land for settlement and sale, they created "Tract Books" showing each tract of land by Section, Township, and Range. Into the Tract Books were entered the names of the original applicant and the "patentee" (buyer) of each tract of land, how many acres were purchased, date of sale, number of warrant, and if the purchase was made under the military land grant provisions, the date of the appropriate act.

The federal government's agent made copies of these ledgers or Tract Books for the District Land Office. With the formation of the state, the District Land Office copy was turned over to the state. The state then copied their copy and gave a copy to the county.

Tracts were also set aside by the federal government to support public schools, and internal improvements. Proceeds from sale of these public purpose tracts were used to fund schools, and other improvements; names of purchasers were found in the state and county copies, but not in the federal copy.

Mrs. Cowart has examined and transcribed data on each tract as found in all three copies of the tract book - the Bureau of Land Management (General Land Office - Washington, DC), the State copy (Montgomery), and the county copy at Russellville Court House.

She found that many persons who originally applied for land

Gillom Kidd &
Nancy Gibson 20 Jan. 1840

granted June 16, 1828. The 1840 census showed Levi aged 76. (See pension application of Levi, with wife Martha, South Carolina and Georgia, W 8091 — not consulted.) John B. and Middleton Lowery were in Venable's district in 1827. It might be surmised that Meshack Lowery 120101-20310 of Jasper County, Ga., in 1820 was related to Shadrack of Jackson. Christopher (No. 115) and Henry Lowrey (No. 204) were in Gwinnett County in 1820 and earlier the names of Nathan, Charles W., Amos and George Lowry are found in the Franklin County, Ga., marriage book.

4. Nancy F. Driskel 010200-01210-0 Untraced

5. Jesse Harbin 000101-00010-0

The family is found earlier (1790) in Chester District, S.C., and Caswell County, N. C. John H. (No. 945) also in Jackson. Untraced.

6. Fargy Cavern (Cavens, Cavers?) 100010-30010-0 Untraced

7. Edward Doss 100010-31010-0

Jeremiah and Claborn (see in Jasper County, Ga., 1820) Doss were in the Pendleton District, S. C., in 1790, and John and William Doss were there in 1800; Usley Doss of Jackson County sold Jan. 20, 1799 to Alexander Boyse of Pendleton, land on Beaverdam Creek of Savannah River in Pendleton, with Caleb Doss and Isam Blankenship as witnesses. (Pendleton Deed Book E, p. 70). George and Edward Doss were in the 1805 Jackson lottery, and in 1820, besides Edward, there were Mark (No. 56) and George Doss (No. 228). Joel Doss was in the 1785 tax list of Wilkes (now Elbert) County, Ga., and within a year or two he sold two tracts of land on the Savannah River. This family appears to have been related to a branch in Henrico and Pittsylvania Counties, Va., in the mid 1700s, and somewhat later in Bedford and Buckingham Counties, Va.

8. Robert Hemphill 000001-31010-53

The largest slaveholder enumerated in 1820, most Jackson settlers were farmers of comparitively modest means. John Hemphill lived on the Mulberry Fork of Oconee c. 1803-1805 (tax lists) and was in the 1807 lottery. Jonathan Hemphill was enumerated with four slaves in the Chester District, S. C., 1790 census (p. 15, col. 3) along with others of the family, as near neighbors of John Herbin (see No. 5). Jonathan (No. 90), perhaps the same man, with 29 slaves, and James (No. 74) were in Jackson in 1820; Jonathan, a Revolutionary veteran, was living in Venable's district in 1827, and Robert's orphans were in Story's district.

9. John Sisson 100011-00002-1

Elizabeth married in Franklin County, Jan. 30, 1817, William Wilson. James (No. 33) also was enumerated in Jackson in 1820, and John left a will there. Charles was in Habersham County in 1820; and by 1827, the family is found also in Clarke, Jasper and DeKalb Counties.

10. John Kidd 120101-11210-0

John is believed to be of the family in Wilkes County, Ga., by 1785, and with Chester District, S.C., connections. (William C. Stewart, 1800 Pendleton District, S. C., Census, National Genealogical Society, p. 117, hereafter cited as 1800 Pendleton census) James (No. 139) was in Gwinnett County in 1820.

11. William Doster 000211-20211-0

James, Joshua and Thomas Doster were in the 1805 Jackson lottery; only William was enumerated in 1820; Thomas was living in Allen's district in 1827, near Sally Mayo, and Widow Elizabeth Doster was in Gathright's district. One William Doster died in Wilkes County, Ga., and Micajah Williamson, later of Jackson County, was appointed administrator of his estate in 1783; Thomas Doster appears in the Wilkes records 1791-1799. One Joshua Doster in 1790 was a neighbor of the Hutto family (later of Georgia and Alabama) in Orangeburg District, S.C. The family was in Frederick County, Va., before 1750.

Dear Ms Lawson:

I do hope that you are still publishing the KIDD Family Heritage Newsletter. It has been quite a while since I have contacted you because I was very concerned re JoAnne Wright. My health is not too good so that for well over a year now I haven't done much on genealogy. But now, I'm interested in getting my records in order for my children and grandchildren.

You were kind enough to send me the April 1990, 28th Edition of your publication where JoAnne had the break through in finding and proving that Moses KIDD was the father of our Susannah who m James HOOTEN.

I would like to ask if you have the copies of your newsletter that came AFTER the April 1990 issue that I have now. Of course, I'm particularly interested in the issues that contain more on my Susannah and her siblings.

In the hopes that you will have a complete run or two of these issues, I'm enclosing my check for $25.00. (one year) I'm sure that prices have gone up since 1990! Then, if you have a complete run, I'll bind them for a gift to Clayton Library here in Houston, TX. Their Family History Collection is fabulous and your issues should be a wonderful addition to the collection.

I'm looking forward to your reply.

Sincerely,

Dear Vivian,

In my research I found in a book concerning North Carolina Ancestors an entry of the name Benjamin Kidd from; I believe; Caswell Co. no wife listed. Upon searching further + deciphering the code in the book I found your name.

My mother's maiden name is KIDD. I am searching for the father of John Kidd born 29 Dec. 1799 - North Carolina who married a Sarah Rougham from South Carolina

In my research I have found that there was a Benjamin Kidd who married Rachel Creasman, I do not know if this is your Benjamin or if your folks are related to mine.

Please send me a Pedigree showing your Kidd people. Find enclosed a copy of my Pedigree; I will gladly pay for copies.

If you are interested I can send you an address of the Kidd family Newsletter. It comes out monthly, and has lots of information.

I appreciate your time.

Thank you
a searching descendant

Dear Sarah:

It has been a long time since anyone has written me about the Kidd family. Of my three filing cabinets, I have one little folder on the Kidd family.

The Kidds come into my husband's family around 1799 by marrying James Hooten of NC. He was born ca 1788 NC and his father is believed to be Littleton Hooten of Darlington, SC. Susannah m James ca 1813 in NC/SC. Their first 7 children, that I know of were b in SC. Our line is with the 8th child, Enoch Milton Hooten b in GA. None of the children are named, John,Sarah, Benjamin or Rachel.

So at this point in time, I do not see a connection to your family. Children were not always named after parents, etc. but it is a clue sometimes. That Benjamin was the father of Susannah was an assumption, based primarily on census records.

I have seen the Kidd Newsletter advertised, but at this time, I'm so snowed under with my main lines, that I just can't take on any others. I appreciate your offer of the address.

I'm enclosing a SASE for your to tell me where you found this marriage of Benjamin and Rachel Creasman. Someday I just may be able to prove or disprove that Benjamin is the father of Susannah.

I did find these small clues just in case you haven't already checked them out. In SAlt Lake City in '81, my notes tell me that I was looking at a family history of the VAn Derveers. #907,983 Item 1 and I made the notation that there were a lot of Kidds in the genealogy. My Vanderveers were from Hollands then NY but this may bear checking.

Wish I had something else for you. But I will forward anything that comes my way.

Thanks for writing and good luck in your research!!

Sincerely,

Dear Mrs Wright;

Thank you for your letter. As you know the Kidds are a handful.

What I have is unconnected lines beginning in the 15th century, the progenitor of all American Kidds I would guess. I followed this line for several generations & then the line broke.

After a missing generation I picked up the lines that moved to Ga including Wm Kidd whose pension you have. His family was connected to the Chatham Co NC evidently, but I cannot prove how.

I do not have Suzanne Kidd but I do have John Kidd & his son James. Another son of John remained in Coweta Co Ga. John himself died in Hard Co Ga. John was a son of Moses of Chatham & Moore Co NC. Evidently Suzanne was the sister of John & dau of Moses.

There can be no question but that Moses Kidd was from the old Middlesex Co Va family & somehow connected to the Mecklenburg Co Va and/or Albermarle Co Va.

I have done a lot of research on this family but probably only half or less than what could be done in Va records to establish connections.

I am not trying to push a sale on you, but to continue your line you would sooner or later need this data — already researched & prepared.

Sincerely
Dorothy Herring

Dear Dorothy,

Jeanette Austin sent me your flier of the books you have for sale. I note you have a KIDD FAMILY OF THE SOUTH.

I'm not trying to be a "cheapie", but before ordering, would you please tell me if a Suzanne Kidd, born 1798-1800, S.C. or N.C., died after 1867, Newton or Henry County, Georgia is included. She married James Hooten, Sr., and they were in Henry County, Georgia by 1830. In 1820, they were in Darlington, S.C., and were probably married there.

I have no idea who her parents or siblings were. I have always suspected that a Moses Kidd of Chatham, N.C. might have been her father. She and James had a son named Moses, which really doesn't mean anything.

Two of James Hooten's children came to Randolph County, Al. by 1850. Living next door to my g. grandfather, Little Hooten was a James Kidd, born 1833, Ga. and wife, Lettevia. Next door to Littleton was his sister, Emily Jane Hooten, who married Francis M. Hunt in Henry. Not far away was a John Kidd, age 52, born N.C. and wife, Sally. Among their children was a Moses. This Moses lived next door to the Hunts 1860 Randolph. They were family numbers 1175 and 1176. Old John was 593, James was 366 and Littleton Hooten was 363. I don't know where this old John Kidd was before 1850. There were Johns 1840 Ga. Index in Campbell and Jackson Counties. My records show that I abstracted the Jackson census, and it would not be this John. Don't know why I didn't check the Campbell census.

There were other Kidds 1860 Randolph that were not there 1850. I will be happy to share all these census with you if you wish.

Any help you can give me will be appreciated. A self-addressed envelope is enclosed for your convenience.

Sincerely,

Joanne S. Wright
Encl.

P.S. I have some notes from RW Pension of a William Kidd of Oglethorpe County, Ga. I saw photo copy (very bad) of this at Birmingham Library and noted a few things from it. Will share what I have if you want it.

Dearest Vivian:

I was so pleased to receive your letter – not only in response to my query of concern as to "what you meant" – but – just to hear from you and to know that you are feeling much better. Thank you for responding and clearing your message up for me.

In regards to our cousin who REFUSES to respond to ANYONE – there is no need to worry about how she is – I hear from the grapevine – some folks still see here hither and yon doing research and REFUSING TO SHARE ANYTHING WITH ANYONE. The attitude is appalling, because the REFUSAL to respond kindly to anyone's letter is highly unprofessional, and reflects a great deal of lack of care and concern for others. In one letter to me during the early 1900's she reflected she was writing a book on her research and that NO ONE was going to get any information. She has DEMANDED "credit" for anything found, and reflected that she is the only one doing the work (these are in letters during the early 1900's).

I too, long ago, referred many folks to her in the hopes that she would be kind enough to render assistance, then folks would re-write back to me that they had never heard and would I please write "for them" and ask her to respond to them; I did this with beautiful-loving letters – and to this date, she has still REFUSED to respond with even a small note. Long ago I even placed long distance telephone calls to her to ascertain whether she was well; she was out researching in her city, but I spoke each time to her husband who advised me she was very well, etc.

There is nothing to worry about, except the worry of why "anyone" would be so uncaring for others, reflect such hatred towards others, and "demand" credit for anything. No one person works any harder than the other in all of this research; some folks are more literate in the how-to-where-to of the luck of finding data; some folks are able to travel to various court houses, libraries, archives, etc. in various states where our kin lived; while others are financially unable to travel, or unable to do any research due to work, family commitments, or ailments. WHY SHOULD NOT WE ALL SHARE – don't we all have one goal – the goal to unite kin to kin – and to find the ultimate goal of from whence we came.

I have no use for SELFISH-UNCARING PEOPLE WHO REFLECT TOWARDS OTHERS, THAT UNPROFESSIONAL-SELFISH-UNCARING ATTITUDE.

This person has collected a Gold Mine (a MULTITUDE) of data on "your direct line" – she is able to travel around, she is knowledgeable, she has the finances to do so – yet – in my estimation – it is a slap in the face to YOU and to others who need so much to know from whence they came. As well, perhaps YOU and others have some excellent "new" information that she was never able to find, or perhaps you have some beautiful old family photos of the 1800's that she wishes she had – wouldn't there be a nice gift of sharing and caring between this woman and folks such as yourself who just might have these beautiful old photos and data.

You can tell I am angry over the situation, because I have heard over and over and over and over again for years about how this woman has treated "Beautiful Folks – HER RELATIVES IN FACT – such as yourself" by reflecting the lack of love, care and concern for others by her REFUSAL to respond with even a short note to their letters. Some folks live on Social Security, and may have spent their last postage stamp and envelope just to write to her in hopes of knowing from whence they came. Some folks never even knew their parents.

Some it has never even been their pleasure.

You see, for "me" – it makes no difference, because I personally don't need information from her – but folks such as yourself and those you have referred to her, as well as folks I have done the same with, etc. – but the difference is, here is a woman who thinks she is much better than the likes of you or anyone else.

No one in life – is any busier than anyone else – many folks have been almost on their death bed, but they still "share" – and this – I know as "fact".

It's appalling, it's rude, it's unprofessional, it's a slap in the face to others, it's egotistical when anyone makes the statement "Give Me Credit" (I Deserve Credit) – Vivian – tell me – what's that – I can't imagine how egotistical a person must be to have such thoughts. (those words are in a letter by this person).

Regarding Kidd Family Heritage Publication: Even though I ceased the monthly publication, Kidd Family Heritage itself has not ceased; the goal that I set forth – continues to this day; that goal was to unite kin to kin who knew not of one another, and this was done over and over again by beautiful KFH Members who shared what they knew on their own kin. The ultimate goal I set forth was to find "how" our Kidd folks connect to all of the other Kidd folks coming out of the same general areas. If we ever are able to find the parents and siblings of our Moses Kidd, it will be that find, that will then lead us to the connection of many of the other Kidd folks.

The money that I personally spent out of my own pocket in order to assist others, "came from my heart" while publishing and thereafter – I continued to work while hospitalized, as I knew how much everyone's heart ached to know their kin – and through it all – I have NEVER refused to assist anyone, nor felt that the monies spent and time while hospitalized and still working on all of this, was for "me" alone – it was for EVERYONE. I live on Social Security, yet I still render the highest level of assistance towards others.

Not only do I render assistance during these trying times, others do as well; thus, when we have a RELATIVE who refuses to even respond, it only reflects a selfish-uncaring-unloving person towards others.

And that is sad.

Vivian – I do so hope that you will continue to keep in touch; it is "My" privilege to know you as kin, and hopefully one day we will have the opportunity to meet. You can also be sure, that whatever I learn as time passes, will be shared with you. I do have E-Mail – named after my two little grandchildren: Kenny and Tiffny:

This IS the Moses Kidd who was born ca. 1770, probably in Virginia. Was in Chatham County, NC by 1798 when he bought 100 acres of land from John POWERS, father of Moses wife, Cary [note spelling from Moses' 1841 will] POWERS. Moses had accumulated approximately 800 acres of land in southern Chatham and Randolph counties, North Carolina before he began selling portions to his sons around 1830. Moses also had seven slaves whom he left to Cary in his will. Moses and Cary moved to Moore County, NC around 1835 and Moses died in Moore County in 1843. He is buried in a Powers Family Cemetery, located on the property of Wilton Powers on Bernard Purvis Road in Moore County, about 100 yards across the Chatham County line.

Anything you can add to what I have learned from other KIDD researchers, plus a trip to Chatham, Moore and Randolph counties, will be greatly appreciated. In particular, we are still looking for Moses parents, siblings and birthplace.

Thanks

John Kidd

Dear Vivian,

I did get some more bits of useful information on the KIDD link to the HOOTEN family.

One of the still unresolved questions, however, is how did SUSANNAH KIDD meet JAMES HOOTEN, prior to their marriage in 1811. Since they did not meet at college, Myrtle Beach or summer camp, their familes must have been acquainted. Back in 1990, Joanne Wright was suggesting that the Kidd, Hooten, Flowers, Morris and Dial or Dyall families possibly knew each other before Darlington County circa 1810. Since the Moses Kidd family never went to South Carolina (except when John went there in 1826 to take a second wife, Sarah Ruffin) some of these other families must have had a prior life together in North Carolina..... or even as far back as Virginia.

Joanne believes, and I would agree, that the LITTLETON HOOTEN in Darlington County, South Carolina in 1810 (and maybe in 1800) is possibly the same LITTLETON HOUGHTON who was in Moore County, North Carolina in 1790, with one male over 16, one male under 16 and one female. That male under 16 could have been JAMES.

He married CARY POWERS Abt. 01 January 1796 in Chatham Co., NC, daughter of JOHN POWERS and SUSANNAH. She was born 1780 in NC, and died September 1856 in Moore Co., NC bu Kidd/Powers Cem..

Notes for MOSES KIDD:
From the excellent research of Joanne Wright in 1990 I rec'd the following info: Moses Kidd, Sr.'s parents or sibings are unknown at this point in time. There is a RS, Henry Powers. who was said to have had a son. He did have a dau, Mary who had a son who went by the name of Enoch S. Powers. This son was out of wedlock by one James Caviness. James Caviness later m a dau of William Kidd, son of Moses and Cary/Caria Powers Kidd who was named Salena Kidd.

When Moses, Sr. d, Enoch S. Powers bought his land in Moore Co., NC A Descendant lives on the land now, Wilton Powers. Moses,Sr. is bur there and probably Caria also. A corres. of Joanne W., Cordia Shelton, a young son of William so was call Little Moses is bur there. Moses has no marker on grave site but Enoch S. Powers' grave is marked as well as his wife's. Wm. Kidd and his wife, martha Brooks is bu here. Moses, Jr. also bu there.

By reading the Minutes of Moore Co., NC Joanne W found the link that tied Suzannah Kidd Hooten, wife of James to Moses Kidd. A son of Moses, Lewis, protested Moses'will. and other children were named.
It appears that William and Winnifred's (m. Aaron Kennedy) names were mentioned, but did not follow through in actually joining in the suit. Moses, Jr. d while the case was still in court. He along with John Siler Lane, husband of Kara(dau of Moses and Caria, were the Adms. It appears that John S. lane did not serve as an Adm. as when Moses, Jr. died, Alfred Brower ?? was appointed as the Adm.

After Moses, Sr. d Caria m James Gaines, RS. They lived in 1850 Moore Co., NC and later moved to Montgomery Co., NC where James d 4 Dec 1854, per the RW papers of Caria's re James. Caria d Sept 1856 perhaps in Chatham Co. NC

Notes for ENOCH MILTON HOOTEN:
In going over the Hooten/O'Dell/Kidd papers that I have and putting the info on the computer, I read some of the findings to my husband, Dan Boswell Jordan. His grt grandfather was Enoch Milton Hooten. The Hootens were mainly in Henry Co., GA. This triggered a story from my husband and this is it.

Dan and his sister Polly (younger) would ride the train from Molena, GA to Atlanta, GA to see their maternal grandparents. Since the Grandfather Boswell was a conductor on the train that they rode, they had a great time. It seems that in coming back from Atlanta, the train had to stop in McDonough, Henry Co., GA and back up and switch to another track or something. Dan would take this time to inform his little sister that they were going back to Atlanta and not going home to Molena. She of course believed him and would start to cry because she wanted to get home. Also on these trips, another ruse that he would pull on Polly is that his name was really BUD. That he was a twin and that DAN and he would take turns about living in either Atlanta or Molena and take on the name of the other twin as they wished.
This of course would have Polly really upset and big brother was happy.

Dear Vivian,

I sure am glad that "Gilbert" didn't get you. You don't know how often I thought of you and all my other kin and friends in Texas.

Thanks for looking for Elizabeth Robinson. Did you try to find her daughter, Allice born 1858/59, married Roderick or Loderick Jackson, 1900. They had one son in 1880, Edward, born Feb. 1880. I looked up the Civil War Pension Record for Elizabeth, and by the way, she is given in these records as Susan E., and she lived 1891, 1893, 1894, 1895, 1896, in Laurens County, Ga. I didn't order all on her, but the lady at Ga. Archives, said she also lived Telfair County, Ga., but what dates she didn't say.

So, look again for 1900 Susan E. Robinson/Robertson and the Jackson mentioned above - QUICKLY. Lit closet -

I have so much to tell all of you, but can't do it right now. I will tell you this. Just yesterday, I was reading some Darlington deeds I ordered through the Mormons, and found where Susan Hooten Sandsbury, her son James N., and one Edgar M. Ham (probably son-in-law, and married dau., Martha A.) sold the land that old Littleton deeded to her son, Cowan Littleton. This was in 1867, so I bet Cowan L. was killed in the war. Too, her husband, Daniel James Whittington Sansbury, did not sign the deed, so he was probably dead too. BUT THIS....old Littleton is given as E. Littleton Hooten - how about that "E"? Now, what could stand for? Enoch? Elias? There is an old Elias, RW, and DAR papers on him, but, alas, and just our luck, he had other sons and daus., but names unknown. Correction - his name was Elijah, born 1753, N.C., died 1844, White Co., Tn. Wife unknown. Papers were filed through his son, John H. Sr., who was born 1778, N.C., and in Marshall Co. Tenn. by 1811. 1811 is when John Jr. was born.

I have all the Hooten deeds now from Darlington. A James bought 508 acres in 1818, recorded, 1825, from heirs of Wm. Gee. There was no deed in the index when this James sold this land. However, one Littleton Hooten witnessed the dead, and I just know part of this land, the 80 acres more or less, that old Littleto~Hooten left to Cowan Littlen Sansbury is part of it. Both deeds mention land on South of Sparrow Swamp. There is no deed when old Littleton bought land from anyone with it lying on South Side of this Swamp. So..... I just bet James sold it to his father when he moved, and it was never recorded.

I ordered the Index to Probate Records from Mormons, and it looks like all the important papers are loose, and in those little metal boxes I like to ramble through, even though I have never found anything for me - I just like to look through them. Anyway, I wrote to Darlington Courthouse, and Mr. Homer Fraser Rudisill of the Drlington County Historical Commission wrote me back. He's where I got the full name of Susan's husband. I think he knows more on them - I have asked, but haven't heard from him. He will photo things from these boxes, but asked what I wanted, all in the boxes (or whatever) or selected items, and if selected items, which ones?

Now, I didn't want to be rude, and say, "How in the devil would I know which ones, as I don't have the faintest idea as to what is there." I told him to send all on Littleton, but the will, and send from the others (Sanbury names) the ones he thought would help. I wrote him on 20 Sept.

He wanted my chart, and other info I might have. I sent him some things, and offered a copy of my book.....if I ever finish it.

Lois hasn't finished up the census records for me. I haven't heard from her in a long time. I just wonder if her aged mother is ill.

I wish you were here!!! I just have received gobs on Enoch's family, plus another picture (photo copy) of him. I also have photo copies of pictures of his sons, Enoch Leeroy (his name is not Enoch, Jr.) and James Luther. The family of James Luther is the one I have the most on. One of his descendants in Bremen, Ga. is helping me. Actually she is a granddaughter in-law, Mrs. Jack Pritchett (Bettie). Jack is a M.D.

James Luther's family is really interesting - lots of brains, and well-to-dos in that family.

I'll try to get a report off to all of you later. Right now, I am working in the house (finally) trying to do some decorating, and having just awful luck.

If you will be a good girl, and check those census records, I will sent you lots of Shaw stuff. Just kidding, I need to work on it a little more before sending out. Too, you might already have it. Do you have a copy of John Shaw's will, and the pages from JASPER COUNTY, GA. CEMETERY AND BIBLE RECORDS, Jewel M. Lancaster, pages 265, 266, 267, and 30, and also pages 284, 285 from HISTORICAL COLLECTIONS OF THE GEORGIA CHAPTERS, DAR, VOL. IV, 1932? If you don't, and don't have the books there, let me know. I have run a few census on the kids of John Shaw, 1850, 1860 and will forward later with group sheets on John's two families. He had a total of 18 kids!!!! Not all lived.

I noted he named one son, Gilbert, and there was a Gilbert in old Greene County records, also an old John. I think I found the old John's will at the Mormon Library, and he had a son named, John. Now, whether yours I don't know This old John was RS, or else I saw in some lottery records where a John from Greene was RS. I have the age for his wife, Mary, and she was born 1768. She lived 1850 with son, Miles J.B., 1850 Greene, family # oops 654 (info taken from R.C. Otto's abstracts).

I wrote over to Jasper County to the Historical Society for some information on David/Dewitt Hooten, son of Rev. Enoch, who is said to have just disappeared. You will recall he married in Jasper 1895to Lula, Leila Anderson. A nice lady there sent me photo copies of the John Shaw will, John's and Sophis marriage record and the marriage record for Dewitt (D.W. in record) and Leila (Lula in the Jasper book mentioned above.) She also sent me the names of two people to write there, and I have written to them. I wrote her back for costs of photo copying, as she didn't tell me, and to also check for the marriage record and send a copy for Enoch and Sarah.

Oh....here is another job for you. Do you have Tn. index? I haven't asked Lois to check these, as I haven't written to her since receiving the info.

I got the obit for Dr. John M. Hooten, Enoch's son, and it said his brother Will ,(Willis and Willie M. in other records)lived in Tn., Chattanooga. I wrote there for a will, but they didn't have one. Sherrill Hooten has in his record that Willis, etc., married M. B. Bruce. Did you give this to him? If so, where did they marry? Anyway, check 1900, and if available 1910 Tn. for him. He was born 20 Aug. 1876, and twin to Susan. That's her date of birth on tomb. I ordered the paper for her date of death, but the library ordered Dec. 1968 instead of 1963. I have her husband's obit. Dr. John M. Hooten died 9-11-1944.

In the James Luther Hooten Bible Record that Bettie Pritchett sent, Dr. Joseph Leonard died 9-25-1934. I orddred a death cert. for him, but not one in Ga. Embry Hooten, son of Enoch Leeroy, told me he lived around Columbus, Ga. I wrote that County, but no Will - not one in Fulton either where Hervey book said he lived and died. He was 1910 Harris County - no will there, but one son is buried in Carroll County Ga.

I ordered ATlanta paper for the date of date, and no obit for him around there. I have found a descendant from each of the three last children of Enoch here, but haven't met with them yet.

Dear Family Member,

The family reunion will be on Saturday, June 23rd this year which is on the weekend after Father's Day. Let us know if you think that you will be able to attend again this year.

A family history is to be printed. Considerable has been written by various family members. Visit with some of the older members and write down what they know about the family particularly on William, Matilda Jane, and their thirteen children. Old letters and pictures are needed. They will be returned to you promptly.

Everyone is asked to participate in developing our story as fact finders, photographers, editors, researchers, picture locaters, writers, artists and story tellers. Don't be concerned about duplicate information as that is alright. Send in what ever you can as soon as possible so it can be ready for our next meeting.

William Siree Kidd received a letter at Loyal Valley in 1867 from his brother Ben F. Kidd from Paducah, Ky. stating that his son Harvey was born in 1859, that their Aunt Nancy was living in Caryville, Union Co. Ar. and that he was also in contact with Lou and her children besides the folks in Tuscumbia, Alabama.

I just recently received some more information about my Kidd line from my great-uncle. He was not able to provide much information, but he did have the names of my great-grandmother's brothers and sister. I am sending you a descendants chart with all of the information I currently have on my Kidd line. I have also sent this data to Murray Kidd, so that he can enter it on his computer.

Best wishes,

Dead Body of Charles Hubbell Found in Burned ruins of Post

Meagre Evidence Tends to Belief That Hubbell was Murdered by Navajo Indians (from Coconino Sun, Flagstaff, Ariz., March 28, 1919)

Charles Hubbell, the well-known Indian Trader, was found dead last Sunday in the burned ruins of his trading post on the Indian Reservation some forty-five miles northeast of Flagstaff.

The body of Hubbell was found burned beyond recognition, the head and limbs being burned to a crisp, with only the trunk of the body partly intact.

A couple of Indians camped about a mile from the post say they saw the light of the burning building reflected on their tepee, and went over there Friday morning and found the smoking ruins. They notified whites at the nearest school and at Orabi.

Sheriff Jack Harrington, County Attorney Gold and JUDGE KIDD went out from Winslow and reached the scene of the crime on Monday night. They discovered that the body was laying in the ruins about where he kept his Indian silver and cash drawer, but they were unable to find any trace of melted silver, which led them to believe that it had been taken.

Indian trailers were put on the trail and in cutting for sign around the burned building, picked up the tracks of two men; they claimed from the shape and size of the moccasin tracks that the men were Navajos. They trailed the footprints to some greasewood bushes, where they found the men had got on horses. From there the trail led northward for about ten miles to a dry lake bottom, where a number of other horse tracks obliterated the trail, but eventually the Indian trailers picked up tracks coming from the lake bed, showing that five horses had come out and had started north toward the Navajo reservation. Two white cowboys and the Indians were still on the trail when officers returned Tuesday.

From the condition in which the body was found, it was impossible to tell whether murder had been committed first and the store burned afterwards, or not, but there is a strong suspicion that it was the work of some renegade Indians, who knew that Hubbell had considerable silver and Indian jewelry on hand for trading purposes, as well as some that was being held in pawn for the Indians.

Mr. Hubbell has run trading posts on Indian reservations for a great many years, and is a brother of former Senator Lorenzo Hubbell, who has a large trading post and other interests at Ganado, Apache County.

There is some question as to whether the trading post was on the reservation land or not, and as to whether it is in Navajo or Coconino counties, as it is very close to the county line.

AS YOU KNOW, JOANNE HAD BEEN SEARCHING FOR YEARS FOR HER SUSAN/SUSANNAH KIDD, WHO MARRIED A HOOTEN. SHE WAS FAIRLY CERTAIN SUSAN HAD A BROTHER NAMED JOHN BORN 1799 & FATHER NAMED MOSES (BUT NO REAL PROOF). SHE AND I HAD NEVER KNOWN OF ONE ANOTHER UNTIL THE KFH; THEN SHE RELAYED HER DEEPEST THOUGHTS THAT SHE WAS 99.9% CERTAIN THAT SUSAN & JOHN WERE SIBLINGS. JOANNE SCRUTINIZES EVERY PIECE OF MATERIAL & LEAVES NO STONE UNTURNED IN HER RESEARCH PROJECTS, WHETHER IT BE FOR HERSELF OR FOR OTHERS....AND JOANNE HAS NOW... FOUND THE "PROOF" - JUST THAT ONE MISSING LINK OF PROOF....THAT SHE IS INDEED, DESCENDED FROM OUR VERY OWN MOSES KIDD & CARY POWERS, JUST AS AM I AND AS ARE MY NEW-FOUND COUSINS. JOANNE HAS LISTED THE DESCENDANTS OF MOSES KIDD (born 1760-1770 ca)-BUT THIS PAGE WILL ONLY REFLECT THE CHILDREN OF MOSES, NOT THE FOLLOWING DESCENDANTS OF HIS (due to lack of space). OUR COUSINS WILL HAVE IN THEIR POSSESSION, ALL OF THIS INFORMATION; AND IT WILL BE PUBLISHED WITHIN THE FOLLOWING MONTHS; JOANNE HAS SUBMITTED A MULTITUDE OF INFORMATION NOT ONLY ON MOSES & DESCENDANTS, BUT ON OTHER KIDD INFORMATION SHE HAS FOUND.

MOSES KIDD: born ca. 1760-1770 N.C., married CARY POWERS born 1780 N.C. (DOB from 1850 Moore Census, where she is listed with 2nd husband, JAMES GAINES).

Dear Vivian,

Thought you might like to have a copy of the enclosed.

From a copy of a letter I received recently written by Rev. Enoch 2 months before he died, he confirmed that Emily Jane Hooten Hunt was indeed the dau. of James and Susanna Hooten. Also, another dau. of James was found, ie. Martha Adair, married James M. Moore. I had records on them but thought she was the dau. of the John Hooten (possible bro. of James) who also went to Randolph Co. Al. I don't have all the info on her yet. I'm trying to get a better copy of the letter written by Rev. Enoch. He mentioned number of children he had, but no names - 12 with 10 living. Mentioned his first wife dying and when. He was still preaching, and doing well.

Where do you suppose the Adair comes from in Martha's name? The first known land James bought in Henry was from an Adair. I believe the deed said he was from DeKalb County. The Adairs in 1850 Henry census were from S.C.. but, of course, a lot of people were.

In a big hurry, as I am trying to get a lot of letters out re marking of these graves. Our lights have been going on and off, and really getting me behind.

Have you seen the book on Henry County, Ga.? I submitted the Hootens. I did not get to put as much as I wanted to as only some many pages were allowed. They ended up not putting a limit on the pages, but didn't bother to tell everyone. I was so mad. I have also put Littleton in a book on Randolph County, Al

Sincerely,

Joanne

Dear Bill, Mary Ellen and Twylla,

On June 16, Cordia Kidd Shelton wrote to me about a family project now underway in Moore County, North Carolina. Seems as if Lewis Brady of Franklinville, NC, a descendant of our MOSES and CARY KIDD, through son WILLIAM, has decided to purchase a granite marker for the site of MOSES' burial in Moore County. I think I have sent all of you photographs of the burial site.

Tonight, I talked on the phone with Lewis. He and one other descendant of MOSES have already purchased a marker (cost was $800) and have had it inscribed with the names and dates for MOSES and CARY, and all of their children. When the marker arrives, they are going to have the actual burial site on Wilton Powers place fenced in so cattle can no longer roam at will over the site. This fencing will also cost some money.

When everything is ready, Lewis and Cordia and a lot of our other cousins are going to gather at the burial place for a dedication ceremony. Lewis is going to call me ahead of time so that Marianne and I can attend. Hopefully, someone will take pictures or tape the event. I will keep you posted.

Lewis and I discussed the possibility that sometime next year (1999) we might be able to hold a giant reunion of all of MOSES and CARY's descendants, at the Falls Creek Baptist Church in Chatham County. This church, which MOSES attended, will celebrate its 200th anniversary next year. What do you think? Could you come?

If any of you know of other cousins who might be interested, please send them this message. I will snail mail copies to Hazel, Cordia and Joanne Wright.

Lewis Brady's address is 3642 Hardin Ellison Road, Franklinville, North Carolina 27248. His telephone number is (336) 861-1322.

I hope all of you had a great Fourth.

John Paul

Joanne, last summer, I obtained copies of some unrecorded plats in Darlington County, SC, which indicated that JAMES and SUSANNAH HOOTEN owned land which adjoined the ESTATE of STEPHEN RUFFIN. I think we can assume then that SUSANNAH HOOTEN and SARAH RUFFIN knew each other, and that SUSANNAH played cupid somehow in getting JOHN KIDD and SARAH RUFFIN together.

Dearest Vivian!

Your letter of September 21st reached me today, and I appreciate your concern over JoAnne, as it has alerted me to the fact that "Perhaps" something might be amiss, since you are the 3rd-4th person to make mention she has failed to reply to persons' letters.

JoAnne is my "New-Found-Cousin" - I say "new-found" since she is one of a varied group I found that descend from my Moses Kidd and Carey Powers. This was in either mid to late 1988 or 1989 (would have to check my records). JoAnne had corresponded on an extremely continuous basis, also responding immediately to folks, with copies of her data find for publication into KFH (Kidd family Heritage). I had the exciting and fortunate opportunity to meet JoAnne when I visited Alabama, and she is as sweet as they come, talented in family history, and always eager to assist.

Sometime last year, someome wrote to me that they had written a couple of times to JoAnne sending her data, etc. with no response, and I responded to them that I was certain she would soon. I know I had written her personally at times from last year on, and she also received each month, KFH Publication, and nothing was ever returned to me by the Post Office, so all was received.

Because I work two jobs at 7 days per week, involved in the publication of Kidd Family Heritage Publication which took 24 hours of my time, President of the Laryngectomee Association sponsored by the American Cancer Society (due to my own Cancer) and with last year being the downhill Colon Cancer situation of my Mother of over a 3.5 year period, plus take care of my little grandchildren at times, and right now, I am typing this with the left hand and one finger due to being casted on the right hand/wrist/arm, as I took my little grandson rollerskating - and even though I am a good skater (almost 60 in February, but I do for the children) I fell, and broke my hand/wrist And for all of the above, I was unable to "continuously" write to JoAnne who did not respond.

And, knowing how busy JoAnne always has been with assisting family, friends, and her assistance in family research, could only assume she was extremely busy to not respond to folks when they wrote.

NOW, WITH YOUR LETTER, MAKING THE 3rd-4th PERSON, PLUS MYSELF reflecting no response from her, I am quite concerned myself. She is a FANTASTIC and WONDERFUL Friend and Person.

With this, I am sending a copy of your letter and my letter of response to you, to JoAnne, and hope that this will find her well. Below, is a short note that I have typed for JoAnne and her husband Charles to respond. Thank you so much Vivian for writing, for as mentioned, it has alerted me that perhaps JoAnne has been ill.

With Very Fond Regards,

Hazel

Dearest JoAnne - my note to you here is short, as it is painful to type with the left hand/one finger, but please know my Love is always with you. If you are unable to respond for some reason, PLEASE have someone write and let me know you are alright - even if it is only a short note. Could somone please reply to Vivian, if only a short response, for as you can see by copy of her letter, the reflection of her concern.

Lovingly,

I am enclosing a self-addressed-stamped-envelope – and would really appreciate your reply – as I am interested in knowing the reason you had not contacted me because of "concerned re Joanne Wright"

Thanks so much Vivian – really appreciate knowing what you mean.

Dearest Vivian:

Please know how very "pleased and excited" I was to hear from you, and for thinking of me. I am sorry to hear that you have been in poor health, and do so hope that by the time you receive my letter, you will be feeling much better. Please take good care of such a lovely lady "Yourself".

I began publishing Kidd Family Heritage Publication January 1988 up through December 31, 1993 in the hopes of uniting kin to kin (Kidd and connecting) who knew not of one another, in order to assist others that were in desperate search of their kin and from whence they their own self came. As well, I was in hopes of finding my own "close" kin of whom I never knew. Through Kidd Family Heritage monthly Publication, and all of the beautiful folks from all over the United States, to include our most northern State of Alaska, New Zealand, Australia, etc. who submitted what they knew on their old kin, and being so kind as to submit for publication their very old family photos of the 1800's and current, it afforded KFH members the opportunity to view those photos and compare them with their own family – and the data that was submitted to me for publication into Kidd Family Heritage Publication by KFH members, afforded everyone the opportunity to read the data and say, "Hey – that's my line" – with each submitter having no idea that the other person existed. Because of this, the uniting of kin to kin and the goal that I had set forth to accomplish, was accomplished over and over again. If it had not been for the love, care and concern of KFH members to share what they knew, these unites would never have been accomplished.

December 1993 I made the decision to cease the Publication (Kidd Family Heritage Publication) in order to delve more into the investigative aspect of it all, and every KFH member who paid for their issues each month, received those issues. I had all of my KFH issues made into six bound hardcover books – and "ALL" issues have been depleted; there are no extra copies of any month for any year.

Vivian – this must mean that you are MY cousin if you descend from Susannah, who is the sister to my John Kidd (both are children of Moses Kidd and Cary Powers). How "wonderful" to know that you are.

I am going to give you the name/address of one of our lovely-caring cousins who descends from Susannah. She has done quite a bit of research, but I have no idea how much or what she knows. Her name is: Diane Kaspar living at 3457 Corpus Christi Avenue in Simi Valley, California 93063-1407. Telephone: 805/581-3628.

MOSES KIDD: I did wish to share with you, that as of this date, NO ONE HAS PROVEN who the parents or siblings of our Moses Kidd might be. There is no legal-documented "proof" as yet. If you are doing legal-documented research, perhaps "you" will be the lucky one to find out that answer.

Kidd Connections (check) - I don't know what Kidd Connections might be, but am returning your check since you have indicated you were presenting it for the Kidd Family Heritage Publications, and of course, since all issues have been depleted. Please Know My Very Deep Appreciation For Your Interest.

I, like you, are trying to get all of my family history organized and then finally made into a book; I've started on my Scott, Low/e Gaines, Lee and Jean (Jean is a surname/last name) lines. Many of my Scott clan went down into parts of Texas. From Moses Kidd and wife Cary Powers, I descend from their son John (brother to your Susannah) and his wife Sarah Ruffin, then from their son Luke Gibson Kidd and wife Lucy Ann Moultire; they had 13 children, one being my grandfather, James Young Kidd.

Vivian – please continue to keep in touch – and take very good care of yourself. You shall be in my love-care-concern and prayers.

Lovingly,

Your Cousin – Hazel

In 1798, my gggg grandfather, MOSES KIDD, bought land in Chatham County, NC from his father-in-law, JOHN POWERS. MOSES KIDD had married CARY POWERS about 1795 in Chatham County, NC. Research has also indicated that JOHN POWERS was in Chatham County prior to the Revolutionary War. JOHN POWERS' name appears in land records of both Chatham and Randolph counties in North Carolina as early as 1780.

The wife of JOHN POWERS, and mother of CARY POWERS, may have been SUSANNAH WARNER, who was supposedly born in Millersburg, PA about 1758. I am attempting to verify that SUSANNAH WARNER was, in fact, the wife of JOHN POWERS. This marriage may have taken place in Virginia, where JOHN POWERS is thought to have been born.

Any help will be greatly appreciated.

Greetings.....

Yesterday, I submitted the following message to the Querry Line at the new KIDD KONNECTIONS website (http://www.geocities.com/Heartland/Meadows/9710). Michele Thomas suggested that I also post the message here. So here goes.

I have traced my Kidd Line back to Moses Kidd in Chatham and Moore counties in North Carolina (1798-1843). All my "cousins" are looking for Moses' parents and siblings. I recently went to Halifax County, Virginia (following a lead from Scott Kidd in Idaho) and looked at many court records. A James Kidd was there from 1774 until his death in 1800. His second wife, whom he married in Halifax County on November 28, 1786, was Dica Mourning Hicks Kidd. James left a Will, dated April, 1800, prepared just before his death that same year. In his Will, he names his "first children"; Molly Walker, Sally Grant, Tabitha Grant and Moses Kidd. His children by Mourning Kidd were; William Admiral, Lewis, Patsy and Delphy.

I WANT TO FIND OUT EVERYTHING I CAN ABOUT THIS PARTICULAR JAMES KIDD, AND HIS SON MOSES. Any help will be greatly appreciated.

Dear Paula,

Do you know if the JOHN KIDD who was in the areas of York and Chester County, SC during and after the Revolution had any connection with this KIDD family?

Many thanks,
Kaye Stoneking

<< As some of you may know, the younger children of William and Margaret Kidd of Middlesex County migrated westward sometime after the death of their parents. Many know about the westward migration of three of the children - James, John, and Aaron Kidd. Fewer people know that two other male children, Samuel (b. 1720) and Direll (Duel) Kidd (b. 1716), also migrated westward a little later to what is now central Virginia, in the areas of Albemarle/Buckingham/Fluvanna counties.

Direll (b. 1716) married Mary Sorrow and had two known male children while resident in Middlesex County - James, b. 1736 and Moses, b. 1742. No marriage or male children were identified in the Christ Church records for Samuel, however. As these two moved westward, without doubt, they had more children. Some of those children then showed up in later records, including tax records for these counties which began in 1782.

Does anyone know who the children of these two men, Samuel Kidd and Direll Kidd, were? And please provide your sources-family stories, bible records, etc. I would appreciate any help/documentation for these two men. Thanks.

Best Regards,

Paul D. Kidd

Dick,

I was born in Charlotte in 1932, to John Paul Kidd, Sr. and Albina Fletcher Kidd. My Dad went to Charlotte to work after graduating from Georgia Tech in 1922. My Mom was from Bennettsville, South Carolina, and was teaching school in Charlotte.

My father was born in Heard County, Georgia in 1898. His father was John Thomas Kidd, who was born in Coweta County, Georgia in 1868.

My great grandfather was John Michael Kidd, who was born in 1843 in Coweta County, Georgia to Gilliam and Nancy Gibson Kidd.

Gilliam Kidd was born in 1819 (possibly 1815) in either Chatham or Randolph counties in North Carolina. His father was named John Kidd, the third child of Moses and Cary Powers Kidd. John Kidd, who was born in Chatham County, North Carolina in 1799, had a first wife whose name has never been discovered. His second wife was Sarah Sheppard Ruffin of Darlington County, South Carolina. My Gilliam Kidd was born to John and his first wife.

Moses Kidd married Cary Powers in Chatham County in 1795. He and Cary lived in both Chatham and Moore counties in North Carolina. They had eight children. Moses Kidd was a farmer, blacksmith and mill owner. He accumulated considerable property during his lifetime. Moses died in Moore County in 1843.

At this point in time, my family line becomes a mystery. In spite of thousands of hours of research by numerous family members, we have never been able to determine exactly when Moses was born (about 1765), where he was born, or whom his parents were. Since Moses and Cary named their first male child James, we strongly suspect that Moses' father was named James.

Since the name Moses Kidd is found among the descendants of Thomas Kidd, the immigrant, of Middlesex County, Virginia, we also believe our Moses comes from these Colonial Virginia Kidds. Your John Kidd and son Absalom also descend from the Middlesex County Kidds.

John Paul Kidd

Dear,

I was born in Charlotte in 1932, to John Paul Kidd, Sr. and Albina Fletcher Kidd. My dad went to Charlotte to work after graduating from Georgia Tech in 1922. My mom was from Bennettsville, South Carolina, and was teaching school in Charlotte.

My father was born in Hall County, Georgia in 1898. His father was John Thomas Kidd, who was born in Towns County, Georgia in 1869.

My great grandfather was John Michael Kidd, who was born in 1843 in Towns County, Georgia to William and Nancy Gibson Kidd.

William Kidd was born in 1819 (possibly 1813) in either Chatham or Randolph counties in North Carolina. His father was named John Kidd, the third child of Moses and Cary Powers Kidd. John Kidd, who was born in Chatham County, North Carolina in 1789, had a first wife whose name has never been ascertained. His second wife was Sarah Sheppard Rutlin of Burlington County, South Carolina. My William Kidd was born to John and his first wife.

Moses Kidd married Cary Powers in Chatham County in 1795. He and Cary lived in both Chatham and Moore counties in North Carolina. They had eight children. Moses Kidd was a farmer, blacksmith and mill owner. He accumulated considerable property during his lifetime. Moses died in Moore County in 1843.

At this point in time, my family line becomes a mystery. In spite of thousands of hours of research by numerous family members, we have never been able to determine exactly when Moses was born (about 1760), where he was born, or who his parents were. Since Moses and Cary named their first male child James, we strongly suspect that Moses' father was named James.

Since the name Moses Kidd is found among the descendants of Thomas Kidd, the immigrant, of Middlesex County, Virginia, we also believe our Moses comes from these Colonial Virginia Kidds. Your John Kidd and son Absalom also descend from the Middlesex County Kidds.

In 1820, Edmund Strange was living in Gwinnett County, Ga., next door to Absalom Stewart from Pendleton District. Absalom's son Elijah named a son Elesbury Strange Stewart. Andrew, Martin and J.W. Kidd were enumerated in St. Clair County, Ala., in 1820, where Webb and Martin had bought land 16 April 1819. Martin Kidd was there as early as 20 Nov. 1818, when he was a Justice; he died before 18 Dec. 1822, when William Arnold was named administrator of his estate. Andrew Kidd, born in South Carolina 1790, was living in Walker County, Ala., in 1840; in 1850 he and his wife Ailsy had children Joshua, Mary, Cassa, Robert, Martha, Mariah, James, Avery, Minerva, Irene. James Danley Jones, descendant of Adam Crane Jones, was born in Abbeville District, S.C., 8 Mary 1826 and moved to St. Clair County, Ala.; his daughter Rebecca Clementine married there Joseph Strange. Adam Crane Jones died in Abbeville 1 Sept. 1815. He and his son Adam C. Jr., both served in the Revolution; the younger Adam bought land in Pendleton (Anderson County) District, and died 12 Dec. 1806.

Noted that in a James City Muster Government that Roger Kidd, age 25, arrived in the "George" in 1623. In Feb. 1632, James City Roger Kidd was deceased, Francis Frythrow, Administrator.

Thomas Kidd was born by 1627 and married Jane about 1648. In 1646, York County records show that Thomas Kidd has in his Cows plantation a debt of 30 lbs. In 1648 Thomas Kidd among 25 persons was transported by Richard Lee, Gent. to land on the York River.

In 1653 Thomas Kidd was granted 100 acres in Lancaster County, near Robert "Chewning". In 1657 Richard Bridges sold land formerly owned by Thomas Kidd in 1656 the will of Arthur Dun recent his father, Thomas Kidd. In 1657 Thomas Kidd appears in the Lancaster Order Book, page 20 as witness to Constable John Medlies and Thomas Corson's deed.

Middlesex County was created from Lancaster County and Thomas Kidd was a member of the Christ Church where the births of all his children appear except for the oldest.

His will appears in Will Book 1675-1724, page 12 (not listed in Virginia Will Index) 20 May, 1690. Thomas Kidd of Rappahannock River to son Thomas to have Condition after his mother's death, 100 acres included. Son William and daughters Elizabeth, Jane and Mary and wife, Jane. Executor John Miller and Richard Dainey.

There is a marriage in 1659 (Christ Church records) of Jane Kidd to Robert Blakely. This may be the widow, Jane Kidd, b. ca 1630.

Together, these wills mention all of the children of Daniel Harrison, with the exception of his daughter Jane, the wife of Daniel Smith. The seals on the wills, with the Coats of Arms impressed, have been described (See Chapter VII.) The spelling above in the signatures is as given on the originals; "Harrison" being spelled with the "double S", the same as in the case of John, Sr.

Daniel Harrison's childhood was passed at Smithtown, Long Island. The year of his birth (1701), Capt. William Kidd, of pirate fame, came to the close of his meteoric career, and no doubt the young children of Daniel's day were highly entertained with many a story of the bold Captain, and of buried treasure on Long Island.

Kid originally was commissioned by the British Government. His sailing orders, dated in London, 25th February, 1695-6, and signed by Earl of Bellomont (who in in 1695 had been appointed Governor of New York) instructed him to sail directly to Boston in New England, to bring all prizes captured to London, and to direct his letters to Sir Edmund Harrison, etc. He was commissioned Commander of the ship Adventure Galley, which had been fitted out by the Governor, and Sir Edmund Harrison, a merchant, and others, all of London. The plan was to capture Spanish pirate prizes for the King; the backers being allowed to divide their treasure. The authorities later withdrew their support, and Kidd was finally convicted of piracy. He seems to have died a victim of unfortunate cirmstances. (See, The Real Captain Kidd, A Vindication, by Sir Cornelius Neal Dalton, 1911.)

It may be remarked in this connection, that the Rev. Jacob Henderson, a missionary of the Church of England, stationed at Dover Hundred, in Pennsylvania, in his short account of the Church in the Province of New York and New Jersey, dated June, 1712, to which was appended a "Scheme of the Charge in New Jersey," made reference to a John Harrison; "who, I am audibly informed, was brought up with one Kidd, a pirate, to take the place of Daniel Cox, a worthy gentleman and a zealous Churchman, who had given 200 acres of land to the church at Hopewell." (New Jersey Archives, Vol. IV, p. 155, New York Colonial Documents.) This John Harrison was Capt. John, the son of John Harrison, formerly of Flushing, Long Island. The later was one of the first members of the church at Perth Amboy, New Jersey, in whose memory a tablet today bears testimony of his early generosity. The whole charge was political, but Kidd (who seems to have been a native of Scotland) before his wild-goose chase after pirates, had up to this time been settled in New York, where he was a reputable sea-faring man of easy circumstances, and married to a lady of considerable fortune.

In 1721, Daniel Harrison migrated with his father, Isaiah, to Sussex County, Delaware. There May 8th, 1730, after his first mariage, he purchased 75 acres of land, which had belonged to his half-brother Gideon Harrison, who had died the year before. On October 10, 1732, he was one of the sons to whom his father deeded a 250 acres share of Maiden Plantation, when the latter divided this, his tract of 907 acres of land. (See Chapter V.)

Daniel's first wife, and the mother of his children, was Margaret Cravens, whom he married about 1724, or shortly before this time. She was a sister of Robert Cravens, who had previously married Daniel's half-sister, Mary, very soon after the Harrisons' removal to Delaware.

As earlier identified, Daniel was among the party of five Harrison brothers, who, with their father, migrated from Delaware to what was then Orange County, Virginia, in the spring of 1737. The brothers began disposing of their Delaware lands in April of this year, and on the 12th of this month, Daniel sold his Gideon Harrison tract to Henry Scidmore. They arrived in the region of the Shenandoah, in what had been set apart for Augusta County, before the tide of emigration had begun rapidly to set in. Several years were spent in camping and exploring, during which time their surveys and preperations to take up land were developing. Daniel's earliest surveys are dated, December 8th, 1738, and November 15th, 18th, 19th, 1740. (Last three dates from records at Winchester, Va.; kindly supplied by Dr J. W. Wayland.) He was the first of the three brothers to begin the long list of numerous Harrison land patents; his first patent bearing date 22nd September, 1739, has been quoted in full in Chapter VIII. The following year, on March 3rd, he released his final tract in Delaware to George Campbell. (See Chapter VI.)

Altogether, Daniel Harrison and his sons were granted some 4,294 acres of Augusta County lands in seventeen patents—all but three of these being issued to Daniel himself, as follows—

EAST HAMPTON, LONG ISLAND, NEW YORK

CHAPTER TWENTY

PIRATES AND PROHIBITION

IN LETTER after letter to London, Richard Coote, Earl of Bellomont, the Colonial Governor of New York in 1699 called Long Island a "great receptacle for pirates." Rhode Island was also notorious for harboring pirates; but Governor Bellomont said that Long Island (then called Nassau Island) was worse, especially the east end of it. "The people there have many of them been pirates themselves, and naturally are not averse to the trade," he said quite unfairly. "Besides that, they are so lawless and desperate a people that I can get no honest man to venture among them and collect their excise and watch their trade." He asked the British government to give him one hundred men to send to eastern Long Island the next spring to try to catch smugglers.

Piracy was a funny business. Like the bootlegging of the Prohibition Era, a good many very reputable citizens managed to get mixed up with it. There was a very fine line between privateers and pirates. A privateer was perfectly legal. He was captain of a privately-chartered ship, who was licensed to go out when his country was at war, and take any ships that he could belonging to the enemy nation, giving a certain share of the proceeds to his own government. But a pirate just went out and helped himself to any ship and any booty he could see, regardless of nationality.

The Barbary Coast of Africa, or the Spanish Main, come to mind when pirates are mentioned; but eastern Long Island was, as Lord Bellomont intimated, well acquainted with pirates, long ago, and there was plenty of pirate gold about, even though no East Hampton man ever was a real pirate.

Captain Kidd buried treasure on Gardiner's Island in 1699. A boulder with a bronze tablet marks the spot. It is useless, however, to dig for Kidd's treasure, for it was all dug up and turned over to the authorities long before Kidd met his undeserved death on the gallows. There is another story that Kidd also buried treasure at Montauk Point. Two small ponds at the foot of the hill on which Montauk Light stands have been called Money Ponds ever since Kidd's time. One is said to be bottomless.

Eastern Long Island, with the open ocean on one side, and bays and inlets on the other, was very convenient for smuggling and for pirates too. To begin with, the three eastern towns did not want to trade with New York or to belong to New York Colony; they were originally linked with Connecticut and preferred to stay so. Then, it took about six days to sail the length of Long Island and ship whale oil, a principal product two hundred years ago; and it took very little time to slip across Long Island Sound to Connecticut or even up to Rhode Island or Boston. So there was very little trade through New York and therefore very little Customs money was collected. Ships sailed from Northwest in East Hampton, for the West Indies or even London, before Sag Harbor was settled.

Piracy was fairly common, about the time our East Hampton forebears arrived. As early as 1654 the Long Island "plantations" tried to get together for protection against robbers and pirates. Piracy was at its height in 1696, when Captain William Kidd set out from London on the "Adventure Galley." Thirty years later, when Gardiner's Island was overrun by a pirate band, the profession was beginning to wane.

News did not travel fast in those days. When plunder was brought in, it must have been pretty hard to prove where it came from. New York was a convenient place for marketing jewels and silks from the East, and a good place to spend Arabian gold. The sale of supplies to outlaw ships, in exchange for gold or jewels, brought prosperity to the then little town of New York. Naturally the Colonial authorities smiled upon it. Just previous to Lord Bellomont's Governorship, there was another Royal Governor, Benjamin Fletcher, who enjoyed the friendship of really terrible, bloodthirsty pirates such as the notorious Captain Tew. Fletcher made it a regular practice to receive bribes for protecting pirates. New York became such a scandal in the eyes of the mother country that it was decided to fit out a vessel to clean up the seas.

The King himself headed a company that fitted out the "Adventure Galley" of 287 tons for this purpose. Some of the most important men in England and the colonies took shares in the vessel. Pirates were to be driven off the seas; and incidentally the vessel's captain was to be commissioned to capture any French prizes that came along, as England was at war with France. No prize, no pay.

Looking around for a man capable of leading the expedition against the pirates, the stockholders decided upon William Kidd. He was a minister's son, born in Scotland in 1645, then living in New York; a brave soldier and master mariner, of spotless reputation. Kidd's story is too long to relate here in full, but documents discovered not long ago[1] prove beyond a doubt that he was hanged for political reasons, to save the face of his titled backers; that he was not to blame for the trouble he got into, and had actually been more of a privateer, than a pirate.

At any rate, Kidd was put through the motions of a trial and hanged in London in 1701. His alleged crime was hitting an unruly sailor over the head with a bucket, causing the sailor's death. He never cut a throat or made a victim walk a plank. His name has come down through the years as a symbol of piracy. This is due to publicity. "Kidd" was an easy name to put into a rhyme. A long doggerel was made up about Captain Kidd, and sold on the streets of London at the time of his trial. The words were set to music and sung for generations. The adventures credited to Kidd were actually those of pirates in general.

His Long Island adventure was in June, 1699, just before his capture. He was on his way to Boston, where he hoped to prove his innocence of the crime of piracy. Kidd stopped at Gardiner's Island for three days. While there, he buried treasure worth about $30,000. at Cherry Harbor, a ravine between Bostwick's (Point) and the Manor House. He asked Mrs. Gardiner to have a pig roasted for him. It was done so well that he presented her with a piece of gold cloth, a small bit of which is now preserved in the East Hampton Library. That cloth came from the trousseau of the daughter of the Grand Mogul; it was on a Moorish ship captured by Kidd off the coast of Madagascar. A bag of sugar, too, was given the Gardiners by Captain Kidd. That was a great treat, sugar was hard to get and one of the few things not grown on Gardiner's Island in those days. When Kidd left the island, he promised to return for the buried treasure, and threatened John Gardiner: "If I call for it and it is gone, I will take your head, or your son's."

By that time there was no doubt in Lord Gardiner's mind that his visitor was a pirate. But there was nothing he could do about it except what he subsequently did. After Kidd's arrest, Gardiner was called upon by Lord Bellomont to deliver up the buried treasure. He took it to Boston. The inventory of those bags of gold dust, bars of silver, pieces of eight, rubies great and small, diamonds, candlesticks, porringers, and so forth is still preserved; a duplicate is in the East Hampton Library. One bit of booty, they say, remained with the Gardiners. A diamond was found, accidentally left in John Gardiner's travelling bag after his return from Boston. Mrs. Gardiner gave it to their daughter Elizabeth who married the Gardiner's Island chaplain, a Mr. Green.

Joseph Bradish was a much fiercer pirate than Captain Kidd. He appeared at the eastern end of Long Island earlier in that same year of the Captain Kidd visit to Gardiner's Island, and came very near bringing one of Southampton's first citizens, Col. Henry Pierson, to the gallows for harboring him. Bradish was a bad lot, and his crew, from the description that has come down to us, fits in with the regulation pirate tales. One was pock-marked, another squint-eyed, another "lamish of both legs," another had a "very downe looke." This Bradish, who was only 25, had started out from London in 1698 as a boatswain's mate on a voyage to Borneo and the Far East, in the "Adventure", a "hag-boat" of 350 tons and 22 guns, with a cargo worth about $400,000. in our money. Six months out from London they landed for water on an island near India. Part of the crew seized the ship, leaving the captain and other officers on shore. Bradish was elected captain. They shared up the cargo, then the ship made for Long Island.

One morning in March, 1699, Col. Pierson, who was a member of the Colonial Assembly in New York, looked out of the window at his home in Sagaponack and saw a strange ship under sail in the ocean, not far offshore. He called some neighbors. They launched a boat and went off to the ship. The captain—Bradish—said they were bound to Philadelphia from London, 15 months out. He asked for fresh provisions and to be taken ashore. He frankly gave his name and birthplace, but nobody here had ever heard of the "Adventure." Rev. Ebenezer White of Sagaponack, minister at Bridgehampton, being at home, joined the pirate and Col. Pierson and the three rode horseback to East Hampton, five miles away. Here they called on John Mulford, a leading citizen; and were also joined by the young East Hampton minister, Rev. Nathaniel Huntting (who later on delivered a strong sermon on piracy).

Rev. White and Col. Pierson returned with Bradish to Sagaponack. The next day Bradish brought ashore four sealed bags. Three contained money, and one jewels. He asked Col. Pierson to take care of them for him. For this he gave Pierson two small guns and a cask of powder, also one jewel, and a small bag of pieces of eight.

The ship lay off East Hampton for a few days, while Col. Pierson went with Bradish to hire three sloops, one from Southampton and two from Southold, that were to unload the ship's cargo. Meanwhile, East Hampton people began to grow suspicious. Several went on board and talked with the mate. He said they came from the Guinea Coast, but there were no negro slaves in sight. The strangers sold some small guns to the Long Island men; but said they had orders not to open anything else.

An experienced pilot, Samuel Hand, was hired to take the ship to Gardiner's Island. The wind not being favorable, they ran over to Block Island instead. The unloading sloops met the "Adventure" there; Carter Gillum of Southold and Ebenezer Meggs of Guilford, Conn. commanded two of them. When the job was done, they fired guns into the bottom of the "Adventure" and sank her. Then the pirates scattered. There was a great hue and cry. The men were captured, but escaped. Some were recaptured, and sent to England with Kidd. Bradish was hanged.

Meanwhile, a busybody neighbor of Col. Pierson's had told of the

The Klock family traces back into Holland. In the latter half of the 13th century when William of Holland was acknowledged King by many cities of northern Germany, many of William's soldiers were stationed in this territory. Among tham was a Hendrick Klock.

Another version of the origin of the Motto and Coat of Arms,(see pg a) as related in the archives of the family, is that bandits stole the King's daughter, whereupon the King proclaimed that he would give her rescuer whatever he might demand. Hendrick Klock, after adventures more appropriate to a dime novel than to sober history, personally effected the rescue, and taking advantage of the King's promise, demanded the daughter in marriage. Being informed that it was against the law for a princess to marry a commoner, he pleaded, "prend moi tel que je suis" (take me just as I am). So the King raised him to the nobility and the words of the suitor became the motto in the Klock Coat of Arma. Of course the wedding took place. It should be noted that in those days the family name was Van Klock. Hendrick Klock and his descendants remained in Germany, being the play of varying fortunes for several centuries. (Genealogical & Family History of Southern N Y & Hudson River Valley--Cuyler Reynolds).

The Kocherthal records begin in 1708 and are the records of the Palatinates who fled from the ravages of the French Catholics in the beautiful valley of the Rhine in the latter part of the 17th and the beginning of the 18th centuries. As they left the homeland, most of them went to the Netherlands and thence to England.

Queen Ann of England sent a small colony to America in 1708, which settled in Onassaick Creek(Newburg, N Y). In 1710 the London Board of Trade again sent Gov. Hunter with 3,000 more of the homeless people to West Camp and to Germantown, Columbia Co., N Y. They were led by theRev. John Kocherthal, a Lutheran minister, and the Rev. John Frederick Hagar, a minister of the Reformed Church who had taken orders in the Church of Englan . While on shipboard Kocherthal administered the Sacraments and began the records bearing his name. (Western Reserve Historical Society Library, Ulster Record).

There were two Palatinates. The Upper was Bavarian Palatinate. The Lower Palatinate belonged to the Electoral Rhenic Circle, and took in the Electoral Palatinate, the Principality of Simmern, the Duchy of Zweibrucken, half of the county of Sporheim, and the Principalities of Veldenz and Lantern. Thie was in 1708. (Enc. Britt.)

Simendinger Register of Palatines in America (1710-1717) says the first Hendrick Klock in this country came from Hesse Kassle in Germany to Camp Queensbury in 1710. (Another source calls the date 1704).

Queensbury was one of seven towns built by Germans on land purchased by Gov. Hunter, for the use of the Palatines, from Thos. Fullerton, who was in the Custom Service of England. Queensbury was on the east side of the Hudson River and had 102 families.

The Palatines were not supported from England.They were advised to "subsist themselves". They could go anywhere. Restless ones bethot themselves of Schoharie. Forty or fifty families settled there, in September to October 1712, opposite where the Cobbleskill creek empties into the Schoharie river.

Canajoharie patents were located in Minden and Canajoharie.

The Palatines pushed the New York frontier into the Mohawk Valley and Pennsylvania. (Early Palatine Emigration--Knittle).

Many of the Mohawk Velley families were German, but the Klocks were Dutch.

The Klocks were in the region of St. Johnsville, N Y during the French and Indian war, and took up land in patents there.

Mong.lo.

I. Hendrick Klock
b 1663 d 1760

The name Hendrick appears under various spellings:Hendrik, Hendrick, Henry, Honorich, Hans Hendrick, Henrich and Heinrich.
The will of the first one was signed Henry.

According to the Biographical Review of Madison Co., N Y published by The Biographical Review Publishing Co., of Boston, Mass., Hendrick came to America in 1704. This is confirmed by the Joseph G Klock bible record.

Hendrick was known as a Dutch Indian trader, and later Yoeman from Schoharie. He secured Lot No. 13 of Harrison Patent, which adjoined that of Christian Nellis, who with his brother William were the first white settlers in and about the Palatine Church district, three miles east of St. Johnsville, N Y. Portion of Contract reads as follows: "August 26, 1725 Hendrick Klock and Christian House jointly purchased from Harmanus Wendell of Albany, Lot No. 13 of the Harrison Patent consisting of 650 A of land--a reservation of one acre of land in a square by the vendor points to the old church yard which conforms to this description as I have stated in a former article--". Harmanus Wendell died before execution of the deed and August 24, 1732 Lot No. 13 was deeded to Hendrick Klock by Jacob Wendell and his mother Anna Wendell and on May 24, 1743 Hendrick Walrath deeded by quit claim deed to Hendrick Klock his interest in Lot No. 13--described in the deed as the lowermost half and bounded on one side by Lot No. 12 owned by Christian Nellis, Sr etc".

Hendrick's two daughters, Barvalis (Barbara) and Magdalena married the two Nellis pioneers, Christian and William, thus uniting these families by a double tie. (Palatine Church pamphlet).

Hendrick was a friend of King Hendrick, Mohawk Chieftain.

Hendrick took the oath of naturalization in Albany, N Y October 11th, 1715, which made it legally possible for his children to inherit his estate.

In the genealogy of the line of Hendrick Klock recorded in the Library of the State of New York in Albany, the wives of Hendrick (b 1663 d 1760) are given as Maria Margaretha and Jacomyntie. The will of the son which is signed "Henry" has been confused with the will of his father, and Jacomyntie listed carelessly as wife of the father, when as a matter of fact she was the wife of the son and was so named in his will, made in Canajoharie, N Y and dated 5-14-1759. The will of the son is recorded under the name of Henry Clock and his descendants in this line have continued the "C" spelling.

Sherman Orville Klock (No. 691 in this genealogy) states that the original will of Hendrick Klock was found in the "Normander" papers. A copy of the original is in the "Christian Clock" papers and has been in the possession of Mr Milo Nellis of St. Johnsville, N Y

Jacob Klock (the Col.), (No. 3 in this genealogy), as executor of the will was instructed to pay to each of seven children five pounds in money--the four older upon the expiration of one year after his (Hendrick's) death and the three younger when each has reached twenty-one years of age. Jacob was to give to the three younger children "each & either", 3 horses, 2 cows, 2 sheep, and each marrys, 1 suit of wedding clothes from head to foot, to them"--(the obligation void if each or other dies before reaching twenty-one years of age".

Magdalena was not mentioned in the will.

Mr Paul Frindle, Genealogist of New York, N Y reasons that Hendrick had only nine children. The name Hannarum appears only in the July 12th, 1743 will of Hendrick, in which Adam's name does not appear. The name Hannarum is a contraction of Johan and Adam.

Col. Jacob Klock has been thought to have been the eldest child of Hendrick, but on the list of 23 who swore to the oath of naturalization on the 3rd day of January 1715 or 1716, was Hans Hendrick, later known as Henry and as Honorich, Jr., who, to swear to that oath, had to be at least twenty-one years of age, so Honorich, Jr was born prior to 1695. Certainly, says Mr Frindle, in a letter to H L C W 2-20-1950, the first Hendrick's son was born by the time Hendrick was thirty-five. Here is evidence that Hans Hendrick (Henry, Honorich, Jr.) was older than Col. Jacob, who couldn't have been older than eighty-two when he was on active duty at Oriskany.

Simendinger Register gives the first wife of Hendrick as Maria Margaretha and that he had four wives and survived the last one fifteen years.

"Early Palatine Emigration" by Knittle gives: From Quünsburg-Palatine: "Heinrich Klock and Margaretha & four children": This would indicate that Honorich, Jr., Jacob, (later the Col.), Barvalis (Barbara) and Johannes, if that is the proper listing of order of birth, were born before the family moved to Canajoharie, N Y from which place they, excepting Honorich, Jr., went to the Palatine Church district, three miles east of St. Johnsville, N Y. Since the will of Henry (Honorich, Jr.,) was made in Canajoharie, it is evident that he remained there.

All but one of Hendrick's sons were in the War of the Revolution and are named in the lists of Col. Jacob's Reg't, the 2nd Tryon Co., New York State Militia.

Mr Silbert (Bert) Klock of St. Johnsville, N Y writes in a letter to Mrs Reba C Helligas, Acting Librarian of Herkimer County Historical Society Library, that he has a "copy" of St. John's Reformed Church, the first building erected by Hendrick and later in a letter to H L C W says that by a "copy" he referred to a book edited by a former pastor of St. Johnsville Reformed Church which has mainly to do with the church and its history. The church stood a short distance east from St. Johnsville on what is noe known as the "Old Klock" cemetery property, which overlooks the Mohawk river and adjoins the property of Mr Milo Nellis. H L C W and Mr Williams saw this book when they called upon Bert Klock in August, 1951.

Mr Milo Nellis of St. Johnsville, N Y is a descendant of Col. Jacob Klock, son of Pioneer Hendrick. He is the writer of the article in the "Old Palatine Church" pamphlet on these early families, giving many names in their successions. He was a very great help to this compiler, giving many facts and names of the forbears of 58 Johan George (George H.) Clock and displaying much patience with a novice genealogist.

In the Quinby-Underhill article by Mr Nellis in Ent. & News 7-5- and 7-12-1951 he says that Moses Quinby came to St. Johnsville in 1853 and purchased an 8 acre plot of land, lying just eastward of the village, which included the burial ground and original site of the earliest church in this vicinity, long known as Klock's Church. (The St. John's Dutch Reformed Church moved to its present location in St. Johnsville in 1804). Here Moses Quinby began his life work at Bee-keeping which he pursued so successfully as to establish himself as the father of the American Bee Industry. Quoting further: "On the death of Mr Quinby, his home was acquired by James D & Reuben Nellis, and in this park of James D., father of Mr Nellis, the Quinby home became his home for nine years".

In a letter to H L C W from Mr Nellis 2-25-1951 he says that this Old Klock cemetery property is, he believes, the most historic acre west of Schenectady. Mr Nellis also says he has an idea that Hendrick was on this land long before he was able to get a legal title to it, which was in 1725. Mr Nellis has undertaken twice to have this cemetery preserved but the owner, one Smith, refuses to sell. Further stated is an idea that the old church has probably as good or better title to the cemetery property than Smith, since it was reserved in the original deed of 1725 and its cultivation prohibited in deeds down to Mr Nellis' time, but no actual deed of ownership by the church exists. So the cemetery, as Mr Nellis says "has grown up with brush and weeds and the stones are broken and disappear and no one seems to be able to do anything about it". H L C W and Mr Williams were shown this cemetery on one of their trips east, and made their way thru the weeds to see the tombstones.

The Moses Quinby who purchased land and cemetery property of the Nellis family at St. Johnsville, N Y was a descendant of the William Quinby who came from England about 1638 and who settled, with his son John, in Westchester Co., N Y. The son John had a son John and a son Josiah. Moses descended from Josiah. From Josiah's brother John descended the Quinbys of New Jersey. One of these descendants was Hannah Quinby, who married Daniel Williams, who moved to Ohio and were progenitors of Dan F Williams, who married H L C W. Hannah & Moses were each of the 8th generations.

2. Honorich Clock, Jr. (2)

In a letter to H L C W 2-20-1950, Mr Prindle says: "Honorich, Jr undoubtedly came into the world as Johan Henrich, in early records referred to as Hans Hendrick. Honorich is a compound name composed of Hon for Johan and Rich for Henrich. There is here a conglomeration of Dutch and Palatine names- Hans and Hendrick are Dutch and Hon or Han and Henrich or Heinrich are German."

Honorich, Jr was mentioned in his father's will made in 1742 as Honorick.

No b or bp records have been found for either Honorich, Jr or Col. Jacob.

Honorich, Jr was a pvt in Col. Jacob Klock's Reg't, the 2nd Tryon Co., New York State Militia.

This compiler first found Honorich, Jr in the pamphlet "Old Palatine Church" where it was mentioned that he had a son Hendrick whose marriage to Anna Yung (Young) 1-7-1762 is recorded in the Dutch Reformed Church of Stone Arabia, Palatine District. In these same records were found dates of the births of the children of this Hendrick and Anna Young Clock. Amoung these children appears the name of Johann George (George H.,) father of Samuel Clock who was grandfather of the compiler of this genealogy. This confirms the descent of this line from the first Hendrick Clock, in whose will the "C" spelling was used.

Honorich, Jr m Jacomyntie, whom he calls Jacobany, in his will (Ulster records Vol. 1 page 232 give the two names as the same Dutch name).

The will of Henry (Honorich, Jr) designated in the record of wills as BA 9691, dated May 14-1759, was made in Canajoharie, N Y where he evidently remained when others of his family removed to the region of St. Johnsville. A copy of this will had been sent to H L C W by Miss Edna L Jacobsen of the Library of the State of New York, in Albany, but it was recognized as that of Honorich, Jr only when Mr Prindle sent the names of Honorich Jr.'s children which he had found and which proved to be the ones mentioned in the will.

The will, as written up, shows the name to be Henry Clock and the signature his x mark to be Henry Clock.

Honorich, Jr. called his property "the estate of my land at Stonraby" (Stone Arabia). In the will, Jacomyntie was designated to receive "good maintenance and five pounds in money from his estate and a home with Johannes". executor of the will. The daughters "if and when they marry" were to receive twenty-five, twenty-five, and thirty pounds in money respectively, and "if in case the money, which lay in Albany, be lost by the enemies, he (Johannes) is free from it". In addition, each daughter was to receive "1 iron pot, 1 bason, 1 dish, 1/2 doz blates, and 1 cow". Each son was bequeathed fifty acres of land, and all other property was to be divided between the sons Johannes and Hendrick, equal share.

2. Horwitz Clock, Jr. (2)

Jr. Tracer to H L C 2-20-1950. Mr Friedlin says "Horwitz, Jr unfortunately came into the world as Julian Barlow. It early towards im-Tarred to an Owen Hardwick, Norwich is a pseudonym man composed of Sam for Julian and Mi h for Barlow. There is zero a nonfulfillation of Sydney van Inhalation Sure not Hardwick are Dutch and Sam or Ian

Horwitz, Jr was mentioned as Mr. Zaremba's will made in 1942 as Horwitz.
H C or op Frenada have been found for either Horwitz, Jr or Sol.

Horwitz, Jr was a pet to Mr. Jacob Glock's Reg't, the 1st Tyron Co.,
New York State Militia.

This analyzer Frank found Horwitz, Jr in the pamphlet "Old Dutch Church" where it was mentioned that he had a son Frederick whose marriage to Anna Young 1-1-1762 is recorded in the Dutch Reformed Church of Stone Arabia, Palatine District. Its these were records were found dates of the births of the children of this Horwitz and Anna Young Glock, showing that Frederick Horwitz was the son of Johnes Horwitz (Johannes H.), father of Daniel Glock who was grandfather of the owner of this property. This tracing the descent of this item from the first Dutchman Glock, in whose will it
"Y" quilting was used.

Horwitz, Jr's descendants, when he calls Jacobus, in his will (Estate Records Vol. 1 page 124 give the two names as the same Dutch name).

The will of Henry (Jacobus, Jr) designated in the record of wills as Schoolmaster, dated Nov 14-1797, was made in Canajoharie, N Y where he evidently resided when aware of his family removal to the region of Ft. Johnson.
A copy of this will has been sent to H L C W by Miss Edna L Jacobson of the Library of the State of New York, in Albany, but it was rearranged as that of Dorothea, Jr. Family when Mr Friedlin sent the copy of Horwitz Jr's will, as he had found and which proves to be the only surviving in the world.

The will, as written by, where who seem to be Henry Glock:

was to receive twenty-five, twenty-three, and eighty pounds in money respectively and "if in case the money, which by is Albany, be lost by the accident,

3. Jacob Klock, (later the Col.)

Col. Jacob was an officer in the French & Indian War, and was taken prisoner. He commanded the 2nd Reg't Tryon Co., New York State Militia in the War of the Revolution. His Lt. Col. was Peter Wagner. ("New York in the Revolution"). The home of Col. Jacob and his father Hendrick, about 3/4 of a mile east of St. Johnsville, N Y was the Fort Klock of the Revolution. The Johannes House, built in 1750, two miles east of St. Johnsville is called Ft. Klock but it is not the Ft. Klock of the Revolution. Mr Nellis, in a letter to H L C W 2-12-1945 says that this Johannes house was concealed on the bank of the river a half mile or more from the traveled trail, on a side trail and visible only to river travelers. It was built for a trader's protection and river boats protection. Most of the glorification of this "fort" is pure bunk made out of the history and stories that applied to Col. Jacob's house. A card from Mr Nellis 11-7-1948 says "Descendants of Jacob G Klock, who was a nephew of Col. Jacob, stole the Col.'s record and added it to Jacob G's record, even placing the name of Col. Jacob G Klock on the Oriskany monument. This has deceived many of Jacob G's descendants into believing that they were descendants of the Colonel". Also, Mr Nellis' letter of 1-10-1950 says that the story of the events which transpired around Col. Jacob's house is incorrect in several particulars--that the site of the battle of Klock's Field has been moved, an island changed to a peninsula, and a fiction is written into the story of 204 Amos (5) taken from a newspaper article published at the time of Amos' death. Mr Nellis says "pure fiction". Col. Jacob's house was about a mile westward and directly on the thru trail up and down the valley. The house on the site of Col. Jacob's home was built in 1835--a brick house with walls three bricks thick. Mr Nellis says the house has been remodeled twice within his memory. It is the fourth house from Mr Nellis' private drive as you turn toward the village of St. Johnsville, and now has a garage and gas station almost in front of it and the marker provided about 1927 is mostly hidden by a used car lot.

The Minute Book of the Committee of Safety of Tryon Co., N Y has many references to Col. Jacob Klock, as "Klock went with Herkimer to meet Brandt"... "Drums Along the Mohawk" by Edmonds has many references to Col. Jacob as has "Little Red Foot", "Cardigan", "Maid at Arms" & "America", all novels by Robert W Chambers, based on fact. "Red Heritage" by Merritt Parmalee Allen is another novel in which Col. Jacob is mentioned. All are stories of the Mohawk Valley. Other interesting books: (Fiction based on fact): "In the Historic Valley" by Harold Frederic; "Rome Haul" by Walter D Edmonds; (Historical): "The Historic Mohawk" by Mary Riggs Diefendorf; "The Mohawk Valley" by W Max Ried; "The Mohawk Dutch and the Palatines by Milo Nellis.

Col. Jacob d 5-9-1798 and was buried in the Old Klock Cemetery, near his father. No b or bp record of Col. Jacob has been found.

Enlisted Klock men under Col. Jacob were Adam, George G., Hendrick, Hendrick Jr., Henry Sr., Jacob H., John Joseph & Jost.

Col. Jacob signed the Mohawk Valley Declaration of Independence (final document,) July 4th 1776.

The family of Col. Jacob, revised to the best of our research is as follows: m 1. Rachel (mother of his children); m 2. Catharine Nellis, dau of Christian Nellis, Sr., first settler, and widow of Leonard Helmer. (The record that he m Elizabeth Bellinger can be questioned. (Mr. Nellis).

in the Rhine valley and in fact it was built by workmen who learned their trade from their parents who were among the Palatine emigrants who came here in the great migration of 1710". It was called "Fort Klock" but was not the Fort Klock of the Revolution, that having been the stockaded house of Col. Jacob, Johannes' brother. However, a much desired restoration of this house is now (1956) being made by the Tryon Co., Muzzle Loaders, Inc., a group of men organized for that purpose. The American Home Magazine for Sept. 1956 contains an article on the restoration with pictures of the house and certain features of the 1956 pageant held on the grounds. The pageant is to be given each year, with paid admissions and added asked for contributions to provide means for continued work on the project.

George built a grist mill west of what is now the town of St. Johnsville in 1801. Then it was Oppenheim, about two and one half miles west of the present village. Mr Silbert (Bert) Klock in a letter to Mrs Hillegas of the Herkimer County Historical Society Library (quoted under the first Hendrick), said that George Klock built the house in St. Johnsville, now owned by Miss Marcia Hillabrandt, in 1760. He cut his initials in the southeast corner of the cellar wall-- G. K. 1760.

Comment on the Sir William Johnson-George Klock controversy: Those of you who have read Mohawk Valley pre-Revolutionary War History of frontier conditions may have received the impression that Sir William Johnson was one of the great friends of the pioneers. Mr Milo Nellis wrote an article which was published by the Little Falls, N Y "The Evening Times", in its issue of 7-19-1949 which disputes this idea. The article portrays Johnson as typical English in his attitude toward the settlers and the Indians, always seeking his own interests rather than those of the settlers. He was intent upon acquiring land for himself. He said, "Imake it a rule to be concerned where I can, because I look upon this to be the principal advantage arising from the office I sustain". It would appear that therein lay the difficulty which started the long contest which arose between him andGeorge Klock. In 1754 George Klock secured the Klock and Nellis patent and made application for an addition grant for an estimated 40,000 acres. Johnson attempted to claim that the Indians had given it to him. The battle over this tract continued over most of Johnson's remaining years. In1761, George Klock purchased from Philip Livingston a tract of 3,000 acres. Johnson accused Klock of fraud, and started suit against him, but could not prove that there had been fraud. The acts, for which fraud was charged were those commonly practiced by Johnson himself. These charges against George Klock are, of course, on record. They are about the pieces of information in regard to him which are on record and naturally reflect upon his character. The fact that they were never proved is overlooked.

The English, to whom Johnson was appealing were those whom he represented and who, he naturally thought, would support him.

On June 12, 1753 King Hendrick, Mohawk Chieftain appeared before the Colonial Council at Fort George (New York City) and requested that George Klock have a license to purchase the lands they, the Indians, had promised him. While Johnson was furnishing rum to the Indians and paying them a fifty dollar bounty for white men's scalps the pioneers were working hard to develop the land and were fighting the Indians to protect their homes and themselves. The feud ended when the English were defeated in the War of the Revolution. Sir William had died and the Johnson regime was driven out of the country.

b probably about 1722, as the will of Hendrick dated July 12-1742 mentions son Conrad as one of three children still minors.

In 1755 Conrad is found as one of the petitioners to the Hon. James de Lacy for an application for a land patent, of land lying between the two Canada creeks and 25 miles back of the river (meaning, of course, the Mohawk). (From the genealogy of the Klock family compiled by No. 691 Sherman Orville Klock (7) in the Library of the State of New York in Albany).

From Joseph G. Klock's letter No. 16 published in a series by the E & N of St. Johnsville, N Y: "Conrad was living on Lot No. 18 of the Harrison Patent when Isaac Vrooman surveyed Lot No. 19 for Sir Wm Johnson in Oct. 1764".

Conrad was pvt in Col. Jacob Klock's Reg't, the 2nd Tryon Co., N Y Militia. Conrad settled in Sullivan, N Y in 1791 or 1792, coming from Canajoharie Castle. His wife apparently had died before he located in Sullivan. From Simm's Frontiersman Vol. II pg 503, the following: Conrad and sons, Jacob, Adam & Joseph, first settlers of Fairfield were surprised and carried into captivity in the Invasion of Fairfield, March 1778. They enlisted in the British service to embrace an opportunity to return home and coming down with an invading army improved a favorable opportunity to rejoin their friends. Conrad and sons, prisoners, came back to Lot No. 18 owned by Conrad's brother George.

From Madison Co., N Y History by John W Smith, we have the following: Lenox Town: pg 137: "In the year 1792 Conrad Klock and his sons, Joseph, John, and Conrad settled on Lenox territory as the first pioneers, locating on the Cowasselon Creek, on the site of Clockville, which took its name from them, and descendants of this family have been prominent in this vicinity many years".

Record of Families who settled in Madison Co. on lands of Indian purchase of 1802, prepared by W H Tuttle of Clockville, Historian of Madison Co., N Y and compiled by the Montgomery Co. Department of History and Archives at Fonda, N Y Dec. 15th 1935 gives: "The first permanent settlement in the purchase of 1802, was made by Conrad Klock, with his sons, John, Joseph and Conrad, Jr. They came from Canajoharie.

Note: Conrad sold Stephen Chapman the land that most of the village of Clockville occupies.

Albany record gives Conrad's wife as Anna Elizabeth Dygert b about 1730. Mr Tuttle located three daughters beside the sons of Conrad. In his will, Conrad left among other bequests, "$10.00 equally divided among his children, Adam, John, Joseph & Jacob--and his daughters Peggy, Laney & Caty". The bulk of his estate went to Conrad, Jr. John & Joseph went to Brewerton, N Y in 1815, and used the "K" spelling of their name. Conrad, Jr and Adam used the "C" spelling. In 1946 H L C W and Mr Williams interviewed Mr Tuttle in Clockville, and took a picture of the Conrad farm house. The original house was made into a barn and torn down in 1909. 126 Adam built the present house. In 1948 the farm was still owned by a Conrad descendant, 539 Fred Adam Clock. It was then sold to a Mr Hutchinson, a gentleman farmer from New Jersey, who in turn sold to his tenant farmer Lomond Berry, whose wife is 541 B. Mary Lois Watkins Berry, a Conrad descendant.

Dear Sir:

If your organization is still active, could you advise if there has been a recent publication on the Kouwenhoven Family? I am aware of the lineages published some years ago in the N.Y. Gen. & Biog. Record.and just wondered if someone had updated and corrected this lineage recently.

I am a descendant ofWWolfert Gerretse Van Kouwenhoven through his son Gerret Wolphertse and his son Willem Gerretse; also the Van Voorhees, VAn der Veers etc.

I'm on the staff of Clayton Genealogical Library here in Houston, Tx. I thought that if there was a good history on the family, I would try to put it in the Library so that later generations would have the true facts.

I enclose a self-addressed, stamped envelope for your convenience.

Dear V.J.,

Over a year ago Darlene Vorhies of Fairfield, Iowa sent me a zerox of a letter containing your supposed Voorhees line because I am preparing a new genealogy for the Van Voorhees Association. If you do not know about this organization write to the President, Donald G. Vorhis, 4813 Bradford Dr. Annandale, Va. 22003.

The linage you gave Darlene is wrong. Cornelius Voorhees and Maritje Ditmars were married Dec. 12, 1761 so it is unlikely that they had a daughter Sarah born in 1710.

Your line is as follows:

Sarah Voorhees, b. Apr. 12, 1710 d. Dec. 12, 1789
mar. secondly
Roelof Couwenhoven,son of Cornelius Willemse Couwenhoven and. Margaretie Schenck. Roelof was b. Oct. 5, 1706 d. Aug. 20,1786. They are bur. in the Schenck-Couwenhoven Cemetery, Pleasant Valley, Monmouth County, N.J. which is the source of the dates. Some say Sarah was b. Dec.20,1710 but do not give source.

Daniel Rapalje's will proves the marriage. Cornelius was Ensign of Militia at Flatlands in 1700

Dear Mrs Jordan

Thank you for your letter of February 2nd. Yes, we still are active with more than 400 members.

I do not know whether the N.Y. G+B Record has been updated on our family and I am not aware of any "good" history that would be available to you.

I am sending your letter along to Mrs H. C. Roberts (Mrs T.S.). I will ask her to let you know if she is aware of any book that might suit your purpose.

Looks as though we have many of the same blood lines. I was born on a farm in Flatlands, Brooklyn, N.Y., that stood on part of Wolfert Gerretse's purchase in 1636. My paternal grandmother was a Vanderveer and my Great Grandmother, Anne Bergen. I am a member of the Van Voorhees Association and have Stryker lines on both sides. On the maternal side I am a lineal descendant of William Adriaanse Bennett. Also a Wyckoff line. I come down from William Williamse, son of William Gerrett.

Thats enough of that!

Sincerely
Arthur B Konwenhoven

P.S. If Mrs Roberts has nothing to suggest, you probably will not hear from her.

I believe Dr Kenn Stryker-Rodda is still active re the N.Y. G&B Record. Kenn and his wife Harriet are members of our Association and could, perhaps, tell you whether or not there are plans to update the Record.

Dear Mrs. Jordan,

You are absolutely right. She is Aeltie Cornelis Cool, her father being Cornelis Lambertse Cool. This slipped in by one of my predecessor genealogists, but that does not excuse me. I should have caught the error. The notes have it both ways which should have called it to my attention. Many thanks. We can make the correction in our manuscript of the first four generations which will soon be printed.

If you are interested in the book or other Voorhees contacts write to Mr. Donald G. Vorhis, President of the Van Voorhees Association, 4813 Bradford Dr., Annandale, Va. 22003.

CAPTAIN HENRY KUHN.

A paper read by C. E. Foote* before the Kansas State Historical Society, at its twenty-fifth annual meeting, January 15, 1901.

THE subject of this sketch was born in Franklin county, Pennsylvania, on the 2d day of February, 1830, and died in the city of Topeka, Kan., on the 11th day of June, 1900. He was the only son of Emanuel Kuhn. He acquired a good education early in life, and for a number of years engaged in school-teaching in his native state. On December 26, 1850, he was united in marriage to Miss Ann Katharine Herr, of Greencastle, Pa. Four years later the young couple emigrated west and located in Atchison county, Kansas, where Mr. Kuhn at once became actively engaged and closely identified with the building of a new and progressive community. He was the first superintendent of public instruction of Atchison county, and during his residence in that city occupied various places of public trust and responsibility; his first public service being the civil engineering of the city of Atchison. He was also at one time appointed surveyor of that county. He was one of the organizers of the First National Bank of that city, and occupied a prominent position in the bank's board of directors for a number of years.

In September, 1861, Mr. Kuhn enlisted in the Eighth Kansas infantry, under Col. John A. Martin, ex-governor of Kansas, and served until the close of the war, leaving the service a commissioned captain. At the close of the war he removed to Fort Leavenworth, where he resided for sixteen years, during which time he assisted in organizing the German Savings Bank, and built the first railroad in that city. During Captain Kuhn's residence in Leavenworth he was considered the wealthiest man in that city. He conceived the idea and was the first man in the state of Kansas to propose the sinking of a coal-shaft in the ground at the state penitentiary, with a view of utilizing the convict labor for the purpose of mining the coal, thereby benefiting the state. He framed the bill, and through the instrumentality of a Leavenworth representative the same was presented to the Kansas legislature and made a law.

Captain Kuhn was chief clerk and at different times acting agent at the Indian agency in the Indian Territory during the administration of Presidents Hayes and Arthur, at the close of which he removed with his family to a large ranch in the northwest part of Marion county, Kansas, and engaged in farming and stock raising. In 1890 he became associated with his son-in-law, C. E. Foote, in publishing the Marion Times, published in the county-seat of Marion county. Mr. Kuhn remained with this paper until February, 1899, when he sold his interest in the same and returned to Atchison, his original Kansas home, where he purchased the Atchison Champion, and engaged in the editorial management of that publication until the following August, when his health began to fail, and, as a result, he was compelled to retire from an active business life of more than one-half a century.

*Charles E. Foote was born in Lenawee county, Michigan, October 9, 1852. In 1863 his parents removed to Iowa. At eleven years of age he was compelled to make his own way in the world. He worked hard to maintain himself at school, finally graduating at Oskaloosa College, Iowa, in 1879. He was elected a member of the board of trustees of his alma mater, and was one of the founders of Drake University, at Des Moines, Iowa. He first settled in Kansas in 1881, locating in Marion county. He read law, and held the office of probate judge of the county. He was a member of the board of pardons under Governor Lewelling, and under Governor Leedy was a special examiner of the insurance department. From 1890 to 1894 he was the owner of the Marion Times. In 1897 he removed to Topeka, where he is now engaged in the land-brokerage business.

Captain Kuhn was appointed by Governor Leedy as one of the delegates to attend the convention for the Louisiana Purchase celebration, held in St. Louis, and was made a member of the Kansas committee for the purpose of arranging for the important event, a position that he occupied at the time of his death. He was also a member of the Kansas State Historical Society, an association founded by his lifelong friend, the late Judge Adams, and one in which Captain Kuhn always expressed the deepest interest. In the autumn of 1899 he moved from Atchison to Topeka, where he resided until the day of his death.

To Mr. and Mrs. Kuhn were born eight children, seven of whom survive the aged parent, namely: Capt. Preston Kuhn, of Vancouver Barracks, Washington; Harry H. Kuhn, of the same place; Mrs. Carl Moller, of St. Louis; Mrs. Doctor Tobin, of Frankfort, Pa.; James G. Kuhn, of Wellington, Kan.; Mrs. C. E. Foote, of Topeka, Kan.; and Mrs. Mary Carter, of Marion, Kan. One daughter, Mrs. Doctor Whitwood, who died in 1888, at her home in St. Louis, Mo., was the first white female child born in Atchison county, Kansas.

Captain Kuhn was a member of Lincoln Grand Army post, in the city of Topeka, Kan. Captain Kuhn belonged to an intelligent, sturdy old family of Pennsylvania Dutch, and enjoyed, during his three-score and ten years, good health and great business activity. He was a well-informed man, a great reader, and a forceful, interesting writer.

THE SOURCES OF THE CONSTITUTION OF KANSAS.

An address by ROSA M. PERDUE,* delivered before the Kansas State Historical Society, at its twenty-first annual meeting, held January, 15, 1901.

CONSTITUTIONAL conventions in new states have always clung tenaciously to the general plan of the organic law of some model state. The three departments of government, with a system of checks and balances, are fundamental. The details of administration and new features have been added continually, as the experience of different states proved their necessity. The Western states have new provisions to meet new conditions, but they have in other respects followed the precedent of some older state. Each new state usually adopts the points tested in the constitutions of the preceding decade. The states of the North have mostly followed the precedent of New York, and those in the South have in the majority of cases taken the constitution of Virginia for a model.

It is the purpose of this paper to trace the sources of the Kansas constitution, formed by the convention at Wyandotte in July of 1859. As a preparation for this constitutional convention, the people of Kansas had learned several lessons

* MISS ROSA MAUDE PERDUE was born near Paxton, Ill., March 27, 1870. Her parents were natives of Pennsylvania, her father of French Huguenot and her mother of New England Puritan ancestry. During her childhood they removed from Illinois to the vicinity of Joplin, Mo. In 1894 Miss Perdue was graduated from the Kansas Normal College, at Fort Scott. From 1895 to 1897 she was principal of the high school at Evanston, Wyo. From 1899 to 1901 Miss Perdue was a graduate student at the University of Kansas, and during a part of the time served as student instructor in English history. In 1901 she received the degree of master of arts from the University of Kansas, and was elected to a fellowship in the University of Wisconsin. The present paper was prepared in the American historical seminary conducted by Professor Holder, at the University of Kansas.

HISTORY

The Military Company of the Massachusetts

NOW CALLED

The Ancient and Honorable Artillery Company of Massachusetts.

1637-1888.

By OLIVER AYER ROBERTS,
HISTORIAN OF THE COMPANY.

VOLUME I.—1637-1738.

BOSTON:
ALFRED MUDGE & SON, PRINTERS,
24 FRANKLIN STREET.

1653-4. The officers elected were: Thomas Clarke (1638), captain; James Oliver (1640), lieutenant; William Hudson (1640), ensign. Joshua Hewes (1637) was first sergeant; James Browne (1638), second sergeant, and Thomas Clarke (1644), clerk.

The English army, as organized this year, consisted of regiments composed of eight companies of musketeers, with a flank company of grenadiers on the right, and of fusileers on the left, each company being composed of sixty men, rank and file. The captains carried pikes; the lieutenants, partisans; the ensigns, half-pikes, and the sergeants, halberds. Each infantry soldier was armed with a musket and a sword, and the grenadiers carried hand-grenades, which they lighted and threw among their opponents.

During the reign of Cromwell, the people of Massachusetts managed their affairs with very little interruption from the mother country. Mr. Hutchinson says he has "nowhere met with any marks of disrespect to the memory of the late King, and there is no room to suppose the colonists were under disaffection to his son; and if they feared his restoration, it was because they expected a change in religion, and that a persecution of all non-conformists would follow it."

Cromwell had conquered Ireland, and while considering how to keep it in subjection, he thought of the Puritans in New England, and made overtures to them to recross the water and occupy "the Green Isle" as its proprietors by right of conquest. The General Court did not receive the proposition with favor, and directed Gov. Endicott to reply that the people of Massachusetts "were enjoying health, plenty, peace, and the liberty and ordinances of the gospel, and an opportunity for spreading the knowledge of it among savages; and that, content with these blessings, they had no desire to change their abode."

The new members recruited in 1653–4 were: Jonathan Gilbert, Thomas Lake, Evan Thomas.

Jonathan Gilbert (1653), of Hadley, innkeeper, came from England and settled in Hartford, Conn. He married, Jan. 29, 1646, Mary, daughter of John White. His wife died Dec. 15, 1649, and in 1650 he married Mary Welles, of Hadley, to which place he had removed. He was a man of distinction, and was for many years marshal of the colony. He died Dec. 10, 1682, aged sixty-four years. His eldest daughter became the wife of Andrew Belcher, and mother of Gov. Jonathan Belcher.

Thomas Lake (1653), of Boston, came from London to New Haven, and there married the daughter of the deputy-governor of that colony. He was admitted a freeman in 1641; was selectman from 1658 to 1676; an eminent merchant, and member of the Second Church. He purchased in 1654, from John Richards (1644), half of "Arousick" Island, in the Kennebec River, where he occasionally resided, and for many years had a trading house, near which he was killed by the Indians, against whom Capt. Lake (1653) commanded an expedition. His bones remained long unburied, but were afterwards discovered and deposited on Copp's Hill, where his gravestone says: "An eminently faithful servant of God, and one of a public spirit — was previously slain by the Indians at Kennebec, August 14th 1676, and here is interred, March 13th following." His inventory amounted to nearly twenty-five hundred pounds.

He was third sergeant of the Artillery Company in 1654, ensign in 1660, lieutenant in 1661, and captain in 1662 and 1674. His daughter, Ann, was the wife of Rev. John Cotton, and afterward of Rev. Increase Mather, whom she also survived.

Evan Thomas (1653), of Boston in 1640, came from Wales; was "taken into consideration as a resident" of Boston, Oct. 26, 1640, and was admitted an inhabitant Jan. 25, 1641. He was admitted to the First Church April 4, 1641, and became a freeman the 2d of June following. He was a vintner, had a good property, and died Aug. 25, 1661.

He and Thomas Lake (1653) were anti-tariff men in 1655, according to Drake's History of Boston, p. 340, and were opposed to any duty on beer. He assisted in the impressment of thirty-two soldiers for the expedition against Ninigret in 1654, and was paid by the town for his service. In 1660, Oct. 25, the selectmen voted to allow him to keep a house of "publick intertainment for the yeare ensuing," and Oct. 27, 1661, his widow was permitted "to draw beere till April next," according to the grant made to her late husband. Her license was renewed in 1662, and repeatedly afterward, for in 1671 she is allowed to draw beer and keep a house of public entertainment. Savage says, "The widow seems to have been less acceptable in her control of the business at the Kings Arms public house, for she was warned to leave town as late as 1672, and not restored before 1676." In May, 1680, she relieved the tavern of a mortgage of three hundred pounds, and died in 1697.

1654-5. The officers elected were: Edward Gibbons (1637), captain; Edward Hutchinson (1638), lieutenant; Joshua Hewes (1637), ensign. John Barrell (1643) was first sergeant; Nathaniel Williams (1644), second sergeant; Thomas Lake (1653), third sergeant; Richard Waite (1638), fourth sergeant, and Thomas Clarke (1644), clerk.

Capt. John Leverett (1639) was commissioned by Gov. Endicott and the General Court, as the agent of the colonists in England, to appear for them and to act in their behalf "in all matters of concernment to them before His Highness, the Lord Protector of the Commonwealths of England, Scotland, Ireland, and His Honourable Council there." He had been a commissioner to confer with Gov. Stuyvesant, of the New Netherlands, concerning a rumor of a plot between the Dutch at New Amsterdam and the Mohawks. On stating the case to Cromwell, Major Sedgwick (1637) and Capt. Leverett (1639) received from him a commission to raise five hundred volunteers in New England for an expedition against the Dutch at New Amsterdam, and he returned to Boston with four ships and a few troops. They had a long passage, and were immediately followed by news of a peace between England and Holland, which put an end to the expedition. Cromwell next proposed that Jamaica, which he had wrested from Spain, should be colonized with the Puritans of New England.

Daniel Gookin (1645), formerly a Kentish soldier, who had first emigrated to Virginia, and who went thence to Massachusetts, was then in London. Cromwell sent LAKE. David (p. 118, 1st col.). Son of Henry and nephew of Deacon Thomas of Dorchester, Mass. Henry and Thomas were probably members of the Lake family of Chidwell, co. Lancs., near Liverpool, in which family the names of David and Thomas predominate. They evidently emigrated to Dorchester, Mass., in the Lancashire group, which came with the Rev. Richard Mather. Henry was of Dorchester, Mass., Portsmouth, R. I., Dartmouth, Mass., and Warwick, R. I. About 1650 his wife, Alice, was executed as a witch and he soon after removed to Portsmouth, where he was admitted as an inhabitant in 1652, having previously witnessed a deed there on 23 April 1651. In 1652 he sold a lot at Warwick, R. I. In 1661 he was on a Coroner's Jury at Portsmouth and his ear mark was recorded in that town in July 1666. On 21 Feb. 1672/3 he was "of Dartmouth." By Alice his wife he had issue: Elizabeth, wife of Thomas Butts of Portsmouth; Thomas of Dartmouth; David of Portsmouth, Little Compton and Tiverton, and two other children, who died young.

Thomas Lake, son of Henry above, brother of David. He was of Dartmouth and served in Philip's War. On 19 (12) 1659 he is styled "kinsman and servant" of Deacon Thomas Lake in the Dorchester records. On 1 Nov. 1676 was granted, together with his brother David, 100 acres at Puncatest (Tiverton) for his services in Philip's War. One of these Lakes was with Benjamin Church in the Peasefield Fight. Died after 29 May 1687. Wife's name unknown. Children, all born at Dartmouth: Alice, born 6 Dec. 1677, married about 1695 her cousin, Moses Butts, son of Thomas and Elizabeth (Lake) Butts of Little Compton; Thomas, born 13 Nov. 1680; John, born 23 Aug. 1683; Joseph, born 17 July 1686; Mary, born 19 Sept. 1689, married at Tiverton, 14 Sept. 1720, Richard Borden; Benjamin, born 29 May 1697, probably non compos and died single after 6 Mar. 1718/19.

David Lake, son of Henry, was a Freeman at Portsmouth 27 Feb. 1668/9 and his ear mark was recorded 29 Mar. 1669 (Portsmouth Town Records, pp. 144, 278). On 22 Sept. 1679 he bought land on the Taunton River (in Dighton, Somerset and Freetown) and also at Sippican (Rochester) and Acushnet (New Bedford). In 1689 he was a proprietor at Dartmouth and a Selectman at Tiverton on 28 July 1694 and in 1698. On 16 March 1695/6 and in 1698 he was Town Clerk of Tiverton. On 11 March 1701/2 he was Moderator of the Tiverton Town Meeting. On 15 June 1709 he, "of Little Compton," deeded to Zaccheus Butts his rights in the lands in Dorchester and Stoughton, Mass. (inherited from his uncle Thomas) (Bristol Co. Deeds at Taunton, Book 10, p. 649).

Sarah (2nd col.) married about 1698 Josiah Stafford.

Joel (2nd col.) married Sarah, daughter of Edward and Frances Bailey of Newport and Tiverton. (THE AMERICAN GENEALOGIST, Vol. 12, pp. 17-24.)

MALLET. Thomas (p. 127, 1st col.) came from Great Marlow, co. Bucks, England, and married Mary, widow of Samuel Wilcox of Dartmouth, and daughter of William Wood of Dartmouth. Jeremiah Wilcox was her child by her first husband. Thomas Mallet, aged 55 years, died 16 Jan. 1704/5 (buried in Trinity Church Yard at Newport), without issue. His widow married 3rdly, John Sanford of Newport. She died 15 Dec. 1721, aged 56 years. She is buried in the Common Burying Ground at Newport under a flat slate stone with the Sanford arms thereon. (N. E. Hist. & Gen. Reg., Vol. 60, p. 400.)

MANCHESTER. Thomas (p. 127, 1st col.) He was first of New Haven, Conn., the servant of Mr. Perry on 4 Dec. 1639 and 5 March 1639/40. Bought land in Portsmouth on 3 Dec. 1654. Town Sergeant at Portsmouth, 7 June 1675, 5 June 1676, 2 July 1679, and thereafter in 1680, 1681, 1683, 1684, 1685 and 1690. Ear mark recorded 29 March 1669/70.

Thomas, Jr. (2nd col.) was Freeman at Portsmouth, 29 April 1673. Juryman at Portsmouth 1681, 1687 and 1695. Married Mary, daughter of Nathaniel and Sarah (Freeborn) Browning of Portsmouth and had issue at least Thomas, John and William, to the last of whom his "kinsman," Gideon Freeborn, deeded 10 acres at Potowomut (Warwick) on 26 July 1712 (unrecorded papers at Portsmouth Town House; Warwick Deeds). Administration on the estate of Thomas, Jr., 13:6:1722 (unrecorded Portsmouth papers, op. cit.)

William (2nd col.). Delete deed from Gideon Freeborn 26 July 1712. (R. I. Hist. Soc. Coll., Vol. 21, p. 128.)

MITCHELL. Thomas (p. 133, 1st col.) was a hatter and died before 6 May 1687 (Inventory of John Williams of Newport, Suffolk Co. Mass. Probate). He was undoubtedly the son of Experience Mitchell and Jane, his wife, daughter Francis Cooke of the Mayflower. His parents were of Bridgewater, Mass. (THE AMERICAN GENEALOGIST, Vol. 12, pp. 193-199.) Sued Joseph Billington on a note at New Shoreham 15:9:1677. Occurs at a town meeting at New Shoreham 5 Jan. 1677/8. Found guilty of causing the death of Ochokomah, an Indian, 9 March 1679/80. Juryman, 23 Feb. 1681/2. Freeman, 1684. Bought of Capt. Thomas Terry 1/4 of 1/16 of New Shoreham on 20 Oct. 1677 (New Shoreham Deeds, Vol. 1, p. 463). On 8 April 1679 leased of John Williams 1/16 of the Island, i.e. Mr. Bellingham's share

LAKE

Capt. Thomas Wheeler died intestate. Perhaps he left no estate which came to the notice of the Probate Court. He was probably at the time of his death a resident on the farm which he leased from the town of Concord. He probably had not developed any part of the eight hundred acres he bought of the Flints in August, 1674. As the tract had been immediately mortgaged to David Edwards of Boston, it is quite possible that it was never redeemed and passed into the possession of Edwards.

Children of Capt. Thomas and Ruth Wheeler:

i. Thomas, b. before 1650; died Jan. 9, 1676-7; saved his father's life at Manameset in August, 1675, although himself severely wounded. As far as known, he was unmarried, no record of wife or children having been found. Estate administered in 1677 by his brother, Joseph Wheeler. Inventory shows a horse, pistols, cutlass and gun, prized at £6. 12s.

ii. Ruth, born about 1652; married May 7, 1673, Ephraim Jones, who died Jan. 23, 1676-7. (Concord Vital Records.)

iii. Nathaniel, born about 1655; died in Concord, Jan. 16, 1676-7. Estate administered by brother Joseph in 1677. He is supposed to have been unmarried, no record of wife and family having been found. He witnessed a deed at Paugasset in April, 1664. He may have been of age then. If so, his birth took place earlier than 1655. Although his father may have been short for witnesses, he would hardly have made his son witness a document in the presence of Indians at the age of nine.

iv. Timothy, b. ————; married June 29, 1670 (Concord Vital Records, p. 15), Ruth Fuller daughter of Thomas Fuller of Woburn and Middleton, Mass. No children recorded. Widow Ruth Wheeler married, second, ——— Wilkins.

v. Joseph, b. ————; m. Mary Power.

vi. Ephraim, b. ———; died Feb. 19, 1689-90, probably unmarried.

vii. Deliverance, b. ————; married Mary Davis.

THE EARLY RHODE ISLAND LAKES

By G. Andrews Moriarty, F.S.A., of Bristol, R. I.

The purpose of this paper is to give an adequate account of this family, about which nothing has ever been printed, except the brief, quite incomplete account in Austin's Genealogical Dictionary.

The family probably originated in or about Chidwall, a parish near Liverpool in Lancashire. In the early seventeenth century, a family of Lakes was residing there in which the names of Henry, David and Thomas, all characteristic of the Rhode Island family, predominated. However, such slight researches as I have hitherto made have failed to reveal the parentage of the two emigrants to Massachusetts. That they belonged to this family

Capt. Thomas Wheeler died intestate. Perhaps he left no [illegible] value to the estate of the Probate Court. He was [illegible] at the time of his death a resident on the farm which [illegible] based from the town of Concord. He probably had not [illegible] developed any part of the eight hundred acres he bought of the [illegible] in August 1671. As the event had been immediately [illegible] to Dr. of Edwards of Boston, it is quite possible that [illegible] was never recorded and passed into the possession of Edwards.

Children of Capt. Thomas and Ruth Wheeler:

1. Thomas, b. [illegible], died Jan. 5, 1676 (?), aged 5½ years; [illegible] in Concord in August, 1674, although [illegible] seriously wounded. As far as known, he was surrounded, so record of wife or children among [illegible] found. Estate administered in 1677 by his brother, George Wheeler. Inventory shows a [illegible] [illegible] and gun worth at 4s. 2d.
2. Jonathan, born about [illegible] [illegible] Mar. 4, 1674. [illegible] Jan. 26, 1676-7. (Concord Vital Records.)
3. Nathaniel, born about 1676; died in Concord, Jan. 19, 1677; [illegible] [illegible] or [illegible] Joseph in 1677. He [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] is rendered still more likely by the fact that they settled in Dorchester, Massachusetts, where there was a considerable group of Lancashire men.

1. ——— LAKE, probably of Chidwall or vicinity in Lancashire, had at least two sons:

2. i. THOMAS.

3. ii. HENRY.

2. THOMAS[1] LAKE of Dorchester, Mass. Born in or about 1608. Died at Dorchester, Mass., on 27 Oct. 1678. Married Alice ———, who died on 20 Oct. 1678, aged 80 years. (Cf. N. E. Register, IV, 107.) Their gravestones are in the old burial ground at Dorchester.

Thomas Lake was admitted to the Dorchester church on 20 (9) 1640 and was made a freeman on 2 June 1641. He was a proprietor and held minor town offices. He was appointed fence viewer on 13 (12) 1653, was constable in 1654 and bailiff on 12 (11) 1656 (Dorchester T. R., printed, pp. 67, 70, 83). Prior to this, on 2 (10) 1650 he was styled "Supervisor" (ib. 304). His will, which was made between his wife's and his own death, shows that he had no children. He left his estate to his brother, Henry Lake, and to Henry's children, with the proviso that Thomas was to have a larger share than the other children. He also left two pieces of plate, for the Lord's table, to the Dorchester church, which are still in use.

3. HENRY[1] LAKE of Dorchester, Mass., Portsmouth and Warwick, R. I., and Dartmouth, Plymouth Colony. Born about 1610. Died after 21 Feb. 1672/3. Married Alice ———. His wife was one of the earliest victims of witchcraft mania in New England. Mr. Hale in his Modest Inquiry, referring to witches, mentions "another that suffered on that account sometime after" (i.e., after Margaret Jones of Charlestown, who was executed 4 June 1648) "was a Dorchester woman." Nathaniel Mather, minister at Dublin, Ireland, writing to his brother, Increase, under date of 31 Dec. 1684, with reference to the latter's book, Remarkable Providences, says: "Why did you not put in the story of Mrs. Hibbins witchcrafts and the discovery thereof; and also of H. Lake's wife, of Dorchester, whom, as I have heard, the Devil deceived by appearing to her in the likeness, and acting the part of a child of hers then lately dead on whom her heart was much set." (N. E. Register, XXIV. 384, footnote.) As Nathaniel Mather left New England prior to 23 March 1650/1, she must have been executed after 4 June 1648 and before this latter date. The Dorchester town records, under date of 12 (11) 1651, state that it was agreed with "brother Tolman" to take care of Henry Lake's child and to keep it until it is eight years old for which he was to have £26 and he was 8 received still more liberty by the fact that they settled in Dorchester, Massachusetts, where there was a considerable group of Lancashire men.

4. ——— LACEY, probably of Chilmark or vicinity in Lac. county, had at least two sons:

5. a. Thomas.
5. b. Henry.

5. THOMAS LACEY of Dorchester, Mass., born in or about 1630. Died at Dorchester, Mass., on 27 Oct. 1678. Married Alice ———, who died on 30 Oct. 1678, aged 60 years. (W. M. E. Register, IV, 101.) Their gravestones are in the old burial ground at Dorchester.

Thomas Lacey was admitted to the Dorchester church on 22 (2) 1649 and was made a freeman on 2 12mo 1651. He was a proprietor and held minor town offices. He was approved town viewer on 13 (12) 1663; was constable in 1664 and held an 12 (11) 1664 (Dorchester T. R., proved 1[illegible], 67, 32). Prior to this, on 2 (10) 1660 he was styled "surveyor" (ib. 39). His will which was made between his wife's and his own death, shows that he had no children. He left his estate to his brother, Henry Lacey, and to Henry's children, with the proviso that Thomas was to have a larger share than the other children. He also left two pieces of plate, for the Lord's table, to the Dorchester church, which are still in use.

5. Henry[5] LACEY of Dorchester, Mass., Portsmouth and Warwick, R. I., and Dartmouth (Tiverton) Colony, Born about 1640. Died after 21 Feb. 1678/9. Married Alice ———. His wife was one of the earliest victims of witchcraft mania in New England. Mr. Hale in his Medical Inquiry referring to witchcations "another that suffered on that account (witchcraft) was (i.e., after Margaret Jones of Charlestown, who was executed 4 June 1648) 'was a Dorchester woman.' Nathaniel Mather, minister at Dublin, Ireland, writing to his brother, Increase, under date of 31 Dec. 1681, with reference to the latter's book, Remarkable Providences, says: 'Why did you not put in the story of Mr. Hibbins, witchcrafts and the discovery thereof and also of H. Lacey's wife, of Dorchester, whom, as I have heard, the Devil deceived by appearing to her as the Divines, and acting the part of a child of hers that lately died in whom her heart was much set.'" (A. S. Bagster, XXIV, 164, footnote.) As Nathaniel Mather left New England prior to 22 March 1680/1, the mass have been executed after 4 June 1648 and before this latter date. The Dorchester town records, under date of 12 (11) 1651, state that it was agreed with "Goodman Tolman" to take care of Henry Lacey's child and to keep it until it is eight years old for which he was to have £20 and he was to teach it to read and write and, when capable, if it lives, he was to teach it a trade (Dorchester T. R. 306). On 27 (10) 1653, Thomas Tolman owed the town money for Thomas Lake's child dead within two years (ib. 69). In 1652 Lawrence Smith was paid 3/6 for charges about Alice Lake's children (ib. 310) and at this time Mr. Glover was paid £1 laid out by him about H. Lake's children and "brother Tolman" was paid for bringing up Henry Lake's child. On 19 (12) 1659, Thomas Lake, "kinsman and servant of Thomas Lake" was before the church at Dorchester for disturbing the meeting (Pope's Pioneers, 276).

Shortly after the execution of his wife, Henry Lake removed to Portsmouth, R. I., where he was admitted an inhabitant on 19 Jan. 1651/2, and on 23 April 1651 he witnessed a deed there. In 1652 he sold a house and lot in Warwick, R. I. On 30 Nov. 1657, Henry Lake was granted the right to make use of the three acres in Portsmouth at the head of his lot and the widow Parker's for seven years (Portsmouth T. R., pr. 81). He was on a Coroner's Inquest, upon the body of Richard Elles, who was drowned, on 3 June 1661 (ib. 107). On 5 July 1666, his ear-mark was recorded (ib. 267). Towards the end of his life he removed to Dartmouth and on 21 Feb. 1672/3 he, called "of Dartmouth," sold land in Portsmouth (Portsmouth Deeds).

Children:

i. ELIZABETH[2], born about 1642, married Thomas Butts of Portsmouth, about 1664. His will, dated 28 Dec. 1702, was proved 2 Feb. 1702/3. On 20 June 1709, Elizabeth Butts of Little Compton, widow of Thomas, deeded to her son, Zaccheus Butts of Tiverton, millwright, her undivided right in Dorchester lands (Bristol Co. Deeds, Bk. X, fo. 648). This was her share of the lands left her by her uncle Thomas Lake, as one of the children of Henry. Issue: i. Zaccheus, born about 1665; ii. Ididо, born about 1668, said to have gone to Connecticut; iii. Moses, born 20 July 1673; iv. Hepzibah born about 1675, married 26 Dec. 1695, William Earle.

4. ii. THOMAS, born about 1644.

5. iii. DAVID, born about 1646.

iv. CHILD, died prior to its mother.

v. CHILD, born about 1648, died in Dorchester at Thomas Tolman's about 1652.

4. THOMAS[2] LAKE (Henry[1]) of Dartmouth. Born about 1644. Died after 29 May 1687. Married ———. He was brought up in the family of his uncle, Thomas Lake of Dorchester, where on 19 (12) 1659 he, called "Kinsman and servant of Thomas Lake," was before the Dorchester church for creating a disturbance. He later joined his father and settled in Dart-

to teach it to read and write and, when capable, if it lives, he was to teach it a trade (Dorchester T. R. 300). On 27 (10) 1691, Thomas Tolman sued the town money for Thomas Lake's child died within two years (ib. 69). In 1692 Lawrence Smith was paid 0/0 for shaving about Abra Lake's children (ib. 318) and at this time Mr. Glover was paid £1 laid out by him about E. Lake's children and "brother Tolman" was paid for bring-ing up Henry Lake's child. On 10 (12) 1692, Thomas Lake, "fisherman and servant of Thomas Lake" was before the ch-ch as bondsman for distraintry the meeting (A'ppe's Dorchester, 278).

Shortly after the examination of his wife, Henry Lake removed to Portsmouth, R. I., where he was admitted as inhabitant on 12 Jan. 1693/4, and on 24 April 1695 he witnessed a deed there. In 1699 he sold a house and lot in Warwick, R. I. On 20 Nov. 1697, Henry Lake was granted the right to make use of the water area in Portsmouth at the head of the lot and the widow Parker's for seven years (Portsmouth T. R., pt. 2). He was on a Coroner's Jury, upon the body of Richard Gile, who was drowned, on 3 June 1691 (ib. 207). On 1 day 1696 his earmark was recorded (ib. 301). Towards the end of his life he removed to Dartmouth and on 21 Feb. 1697/8 he sailed "northwardly," sold land in Portsmouth (Portsmouth Deeds).

Children:

1. Elizabeth, born about 1664, married Thomas Hoile of Portsmouth, about 1684. He will dated 22 Dec. 1717, was proved 2 Feb. 1723/4. On 20 Nov. 1706, Elizabeth Hoile of Little Compton, widow of Thomas, sealed to her son Lawrence Hoile of Tiverton, husbandman, her and sealed right to Dartmouth lands (Bristol Co. Deeds, Bk. X, fo. 484). This was her share of the lands left to her by her uncle Thomas Lake, as one of the children of Henry. Lawrence Hoile was about 1708 in Tiverton, R. I., and about 1726 in Dartmouth, Mass. (Bristol Co. Deeds, Bk. 20, fo. 1). Elizabeth Hoile was born about 1672, married 24 Dec. 1690, William Shaw.
2. Henry, born about 1666.
3. Thomas, born about 1668.
4. Mary, born about 1670.
5. Lawrence, also given in his mother.
6. Sarah, born about 1673, died in Dartmouth at Thomas Tolman's about 1697.

4. THOMAS LAKE (Henry?) of Dartmouth. Born about 1667. Died after 22 May 1697. Married ——— He was brought up in the family of his uncle, Thomas Lake of Portsmouth, where on 12 (12) 1690 he sailed "fisherman and servant of Thomas Lake," was before the Dartmouth church for creating a disturbance. He later joined his father and settled in Dartmouth. He was a soldier under Capt. Benjamin Church in Philip's War, as was also his brother David. One of these two brothers is the "Lake" mentioned by Capt. Church as one of his soldiers on the day of the "Peasefield Fight" (Church's Indian Wars, 2nd ed., Boston, 1826, p. 41). On 1 Nov. 1676, Plymouth Colony granted 100 acres at Puncatest (Tiverton) to David and Thomas Lake for their services in Philip's War, of which David was to have 60 acres (Plymouth Col. Rec.). This land was afterwards included in the bounds of the Pocasset purchase, with the result that a bitter dispute arose between the Lakes and the Pocasset proprietors.

Children (cf. N. E. Register, XX, 339):

i. ALICE[3], born 6 Dec. 1677. Married about 1695 her cousin, Moses Butts, son of Thomas and Elizabeth (Lake) Butts of Little Compton. On 1 Feb. 1719/20 Moses Butts of Little Compton, "cooper," and Alice, his wife, deeded to John Lake of Little Compton, "weaver" (i.e. the brother of Alice) their undivided right in 100 acres in Tiverton, "which was in common between our father Thomas Lake and our uncle David Lake" for the purpose of trying out the title "that some of our relations might have that which our honnoured father had just title to" (Bristol Deeds XIII. 396). 7 children (cf. Austin p. 34).

6. ii. THOMAS, born 13 Nov. 1680.

7. iii. JOHN, born 23 Aug. 1683.

8. iv. JOSEPH, born 17 July 1686.

v. MARY, born 19 Sept. 1689. Married at Tiverton, 14 Sept. 1720, Richard Borden.

vi. BENJAMIN, born 29 May 1697. Witnessed a deed of his brother, Thomas Lake, on March 6, 1718/9 (Bristol Deeds). He was probably infirm and did not marry, as no trace of his wife and children appears in the records. This conjecture is supported by the fact that his guardians Thomas Church and Jonathan Head of Little Compton received, on his behalf, damages from Peter Horsewell and Thomas Dring of Little Compton, for injuries inflicted on the said Benjamin Lake of Tiverton at Robert Woodman's husking in 1715, on 8 August 1717 (Bristol Deeds, XI. 178).

5. DAVID[2] LAKE (Henry[1]) of Portsmouth, Little Compton and Tiverton. Born about 1646. Died after 15 June 1709. Married Sarah, widow of Thomas Cornell of Portsmouth (who was executed for the murder of his mother on 23 May 1673), and daughter of Ralph and Joan (Savage) Earle of Bishop's Stortford, co. Herts., England, and Portsmouth, R. I., about 1677. On 10 August 1667 he enlisted in a troop of horse raised at Portsmouth for the Dutch War. On 27 Feb. 1668/9, he was made a freeman at Portsmouth (Portsmouth T. R., printed, p. 144). His ear-mark was recorded 29 March 1669 (ib., p. 278). On 11 Feb. 1672/3, he witnessed an agreement between the Indian proprietors of Seaconnet. He was a soldier under Captain Church in Philip's War and, as above recorded, had a grant from Plymouth Colony, with his brother Thomas, of 100 acres at Puncatest (in Tiverton), of which he was to have 60 acres as he had "been very useful and serviceable in the late war." An entry in the Portsmouth town records in 1682 shows that in 1676 he had sold Indian captives to the town (ib., p. 215). On 4 Jan. 1679/80, he was settled at Namquid, in Little Compton and on that date he, "now husband of Sarah, late wife of Thomas Cornell of Portsmouth," had a dispute with Thomas Cornell, son of the deceased, over Sarah's dower rights, which was then compromised. On 7 July 1681 he was sued by Benjamin Church and the other Pocasset proprietors for having forceably prevented a sale of their land, near the Fall River in May 1680, by pulling the turf and twig (an ancient English form of enfeoffment) from the hands of their attorney Joseph Church. This was a dispute over the land formerly granted to Thomas Lake and himself by Plymouth Colony after Philip's War. The jury found for the proprietors in a damage of £5. It should be noted that this was probably for the violence used, as in 1720 the title was still in dispute (see above). On 22 Sept. 1679, he purchased a large tract on both sides of the Taunton River, below Taunton, in what is now Deighton, Somerset and Freetown, together with other lands in Sippican (Rochester, Mass.) and at Acushnet (Dartmouth, now New Bedford). On 14 March 1683/4 he, together with his wife Sarah, sold land at Dartmouth. He was one of the Little Compton men who vigorously opposed the attempts of Plymouth Colony to establish the Congregational Church in Little Compton and was chosen in February 1686 as one of the town's agents to defend the non-payment by the town of £15, as ordered by the Court, for the support of the Congregational minister. In March of that year, the Court ordered the town to pay £20 for their contempt and because "they wrote rather as equals or neighbors, than as delinquants and offenders." In 1689 he was one of the proprietors of Dartmouth and as such sold land there. When Tiverton was organized as a town in 1692, he was one of the original inhabitants, as he resided on the line between Little Compton and that town. Henceforth he appears as "of Tiverton." He was a selectman of Tiverton on 28 July 1694 and again in 1698. On 16 March 1695/6, he was chosen town clerk of Tiverton and again in 1698. On 11 March 1701/2, he was Moderator of the town meeting (Tiverton Town Records). On 28 Jan. 1704/5, Sarah, "now wife of David Lake," is mentioned in a deed (Bristol County Deeds). He was alive as late as 15 June 1709, as on that date "David Lake of Little Compton" for £3 conveyed to Zaccheus Butts of Tiverton "all my right, title and interest in divided or undivided lands in the township of Dorchester" (Bristol Deeds, X. 649). This is his right in the lands left him by his uncle Thomas Lake of Dorchester, together with the other children of Henry Lake. It may be noted that this was five days before his sister, Elizabeth Butts, conveyed her rights in the same land to the same grantee, i.e. her son Zaccheus. These deeds, by some curious chance were recorded in Bristol county and not in Suffolk, where the land was situated.

i. JOSEPH[4] (probably). On 14 April 1741 Jonathan Butts and Joseph Lake Jr., "both of Dartmouth," bought land there, which they sold on 12 August the same year (Bristol County Deeds, XXX. 261, and XXXII. 86). This may be, however, the son of David Lake, who was born 15 June 1690.

ii. ANNA, born Dartmouth 6 April 1720; married there, 27 Sept. 1744, Caleb Cory.

iii. THOMAS, born about 1723. On 1 March 1750, Thomas Lake "of Dartmouth, son of Joseph, married Lydia Huddlestone, daughter of George." On 12 Nov. 1759, both they and her parents were living in Beekman's Precinct, Dutchess Co., N. Y. (cf. Bristol County Deeds, XLIV. 40, and XLV. 142).

v. JAMES, born at Dartmouth 28 May 1734.

vi. MARY (probably). Abraham Butts and Mary Lake, "both of Dartmouth," were married 9 June 1735.

NOTE. The husband of Sarah, daughter of David Lake.

Some difficulty occurs as to the husband of Sarah, daughter of David Lake. The record cited above shows clearly that she married Josiah Stafford and that on 11 April 1699 they had been recently married. Now in the case of Lake vs. Almy (Suffolk Supreme Judicial Files, old papers, case 3953) David Lake deposed in April 1699 and said "as my wife and daughter Sarah Butts informed me." On 8 July 1701, Sarah Butts, "late of Little Compton," complained that her husband Zaccheus Butts had deserted her and put his daughter Mary, aged about 7 years, in the family of Joseph Palmer, which family were not suitable to bring her up. The Court ordered the child be placed in the family of David Lake, "whose wife is the child's grandmother." (Bristol County Sessions Ct., I. 67.) On 21 Aug. 1712, Sarah, widow of Zaccheus Butts, and her son John Butts, both of Portsmouth, conveyed land in Dartmouth bequeathed to her by her father-in-law, Thomas Butts deceased (Bristol County Deeds, Bk. X. 689). In the acknowledgement, dated 20 May 1713, she is called "now Sarah Cole." These entries can only be reconciled with the Sessions Court entry cited under Sarah Lake in the text by remembering that David Lake married the widow of Thomas Cornell, who was executed in 1673 and who had by Cornell a daughter Sarah born before 1673. She evidently married Zaccheus Butts about 1692, at which time Sarah Lake was only fifteen years old. As the stepdaughter of David Lake, Sarah (Cornell) Butts would be called his "daughter." Thus we discover the husband of Sarah Cornell, not before known, and also the fact that after the death of Zaccheus Butts she married at Swansea, 25 Aug. 1712, John Cole. She died at Warren, R. I., 16 Jan. 1748/9 aged 81 years. John Cole died 25 June 1748 in his 89th year.

8. Cedar Lake ("Beaver," Henry[1]) of Dartmouth. Deep 17 June 1890. Mirrored Penobque Cove, daughter of Jesse of Lake Cowhegan, prior to 2 May 1719. The lonely land of Jesse, which Dover in Dartmouth on 15 June 1724 X, which he sold on 2 March 1142 (Bristol County Deed, XIX 493, and XXXX 450). On 8 July 1720 he found the other half of Thomas Lake, selling the Dover half lands of his great-uncle Thomas Lake of Dartmouth.

CHILDREN.

I. Jonathan (probably). On 16 April 1741 Jonathan Smith and Sarah Lake Jr., "both of Dartmouth," joined hand [illegible] [illegible] day said on 12 August the same year (Bristol County Deed, XXXX 301 and XXXII 96). This may be, however, the son of Jesse Lake, who was born in June 1690.

II. Abner, born Dartmouth 6 April 1720; married there 27 Sept. 1744, Lydia Cory.

III. Thomas, born about 1724. On 1 March 1750, Thomas Lake "of Dartmouth, son of Joseph, married Lydia Hadderson, daughter of Joseph." On 22 Nov. 1758, both they and his parents were living in Dartmouth, Bristol Co., Mass. (B. C. Deed, Bristol County Deeds XLIV 61, and XLV 1).

IV. Jesse, born at Tiverton 24 May 1726. Died young.

V. Jesse, born at Dartmouth 22 May 1734.

VI. Mary (probably). Abraham Shaw and Mary Lake, "both of Dartmouth," were married 8 June 1742.

Richard Lord was buried at Towcester October 16, 1610; his wife was buried there September 22, 1610. He was born about 1555, and they married about 1582.

Elizabeth, born about 1583.
Thomas, " " 1585.
Ellen, " " 1587.
Alice, " " 1590, married May 20, 1611, Richard Morris.

Richard Lord had a brother William, whose will is recorded in Northampton Probate Registry, pp. 1560-66, folio 72. It would seem that Richard and William descended from the Lord family of Yelvertoft, County Northampton, England.

Thomas Lord (1) married February 23, 1610-11, Dorothy Bird, daughter of Robert and Amy Bird of Towcester, England.

The records of the St. Laurence Church, Towcester, show that Dorothy Bird was baptized May 25, 1588.

There is also a record on page 25 of the ancient Marriage License Book of Petersborough (near Towcester), England, of the marriage license issued to Thomas Lord and Dorothy Bird on February 20, 1610-11.

The Towcester Registers, 1561-1633, give the following baptisms:

Richard Lord, baptized Jan. 5, 1611-12.
Anne Lord, " Sept. 18, 1614.
Thomas Lord, " Nov. 15, 1616.
William Lord, " Dec. 27, 1618.
Robert Lord, " May 12, 1620.
John Lord, " Jan. 21, 1623-24.
Aymie Lord, " Nov. 30, 1626.
Dorothy Lord, " July 1, 1629.

("The Founding of New England" by Ernest Flagg; "Lords of Towcester"

by Gerald L. Payne, "Essex Institute Vol LIV"

Thomas Lord was a man of means, position and influence, and in 1632 he sent his eldest son, Richard, then about twenty-one years of age, to America. He settled at Newtown, Mass., which afterwards became Cambridge. In 1633, Governor Haynes and The Rev. Thomas Hooker, friends of Thomas Lord, sailed for America with about two hundred passengers important to the colony, and it is thought possible that Richard Lord went in advance in order to select a place to settle.

From Hotten's "Original Lists," we learn that "on the 29th of April 1635 were registered for transportation from the port of London to New England, in the ship 'Elizabeth and Ann,' of which Capt. Robert Cooper was master, Thomas Lord, aged fifty; his wife, Dorothy, aged forty-six; and their children Thomas, aged sixteen; Ann, aged fourteen; William, aged twelve; John, aged ten; Robert, aged nine; Aymie, aged six; and Dorothy, aged four." They landed in Boston and joined Richard Lord at Newtown. The ages of the children as given on the ship's register are probably only approximate, as they vary from the actual baptismal records.

In 1636, with his entire family, Thomas Lord joined the party of Rev. Mr. Hooker and Mr. Stone and one hundred men, women and children, which took its departure from Newtown to form a new settlement on the Connecticut River.

They traveled more than a hundred miles, through a hideous and trackless wilderness to Hartford. They had no guide but their compass; and made their way over mountains, through swamps, thickets and rivers, which were passable with great difficulty. They had no cover but the heavens, and no lodgings but such as nature afforded them. They drove with them one hundred and sixty head of cattle and subsisted by the way on the milk of their cows. Mrs. Hooker was borne through the wilderness on a litter. The people generally carried their packs, arms and some utensils. They were nearly a fortnight on their journey. This adventure was the more remarkable as many of this company were persons of figure, who in England had lived in honor, affluence and delicacy, and were strangers to fatigue and danger. Gov. Haynes and some others did not appear in the colony until 1637." (Trumbull's Memorial History of Hartford.)

It was early in June when they reached their journey's end. Their first labor was to prepare their dugouts in the hillside and provide shelter for their cattle. They had for some time been close friends and neighbors in Newtown and were already organized as a church, had been members of townships and were familiar, therefore, with action as a body. They agreed to purchase territory jointly and afterwards parcel it out, and Mr. Samuel Stone and Mr. William Goodwin were appointed, in behalf of the proprietors, to treat for land with the tribe of Suckiage Indians, of whom at this purchased a large area. It is not known what they bartered—probably cloth, axes, knives, etc. That a consideration was given, that it was increased when Sequassen confirmed the grant and was enlarged again when his heirs and successors renewed it "to near the value the land was esteemed at before the English came into these parts" is apparent from the deed of renewal itself. As soon as acquired, the land was distributed to the new proprietors.

Thomas Lord thus became an original proprietor and one of the first settlers of Hartford. He lived on the north side of the highway on the bank of the Little River (now Wells Street), a near neighbor of Gov. Haynes, Rev. Mr. Hooker, Mr. Goodwin, Gov. Wyllys and others of the prominent inhabitants. His sons, Richard and Thomas, had the lots next to his. The Hartford settlers were largely people of some culture cast into raw conditions, and there was a mingling of high breeding and rough life.

Neither the date of death nor the place of burial of Thomas Lord (1) is known. There is an entry on the Hartford Town Votes, under date of January 29, 1643-4. The Governor, Mr. Hooker, and several others, including Thomas Lord, Sr., and his son Thomas, were freed from "Common worck in the hyway" for the next three years. As this is the last reference to Thomas Lord, Sr., in the volume, it might be conjectured that he died shortly after that time. ("The Founding of New England," by Ernest Flagg.) The land records of Hartford show that Dorothy Lord owned lands as early as May 29, 1651, and that on March 7, 1652, she sold some land to Richard Goodman, and according to the laws in effect at that time (see Epaphroditus Peck's "The Property Rights of Husband and Wife under the Laws of Connecticut") a wife could not make contracts while her husband was living. The graves of Dorothy Lord and quite a number of descendants are in the graveyard in the rear of the First Church of Hartford, and the names of Thomas Lord and his son Richard are inscribed on the granite monument as among the first settlers. Dorothy Lord died in 1675 at the age of 86, and her will, dated February 8, 1669, is now on file among the probate records in the Connecticut State Library at Hartford, and is as follows:

"In the Name of God Amen, I Dorathy Lord of Hartford in the colony of Connecticutt in New England, Being stricken in yeares, & at present labouring under some bodyly weaknesses; Though through the mercy of God, I at present haue ye use of my understanding & memorye, yet I know not how suddenly the Lord may put an end unto my fewe dayes in this life, & therefore according to my duty I am willing soe to setle & disspose of that little estate the Lord hath lent me, that peace may be continued amongst my children when I am gathered to my fathers, & In order thereunto I doe declare this as followeth to be my last will & Testament. 2. Thomas[2] Stanton, Jr., b. 1638, in Hartford, Conn. He m. SARAH DENISON, oldest dau. of Capt. George Denison of Stonington, Conn. She was b. March 20, 1641, and d. Dec. 19, 1701. Thomas[2] died in Stonington, April 11, 1718. He with his bro. John[2] received from their father his lands in Preston, Conn. Dr. Savage, in his Genealogical Dictionary, has this note: "Thomas Stanton, Jr., had shown, before the removal of his father from Hartford, such an aptness for the language of the Indians, as to be desired, in 1654, by the Commissioners of the United Colony of New England to be employed in the public service with his younger bro. John, by training at Harvard College for interpreter, and seven years the Colony made grant of land and money to the father for the benefit of him and them."

Thos.[2] Stanton, Jr., Nov. 11, 1698, bought of Owaneco, chief sachem of Mohegan, a tract of 650 acres, "lying in the North Parish in New London, adjoining to a pond called Obplmtksok (now Gardiner's Lake) a mile or more long." This he sold to Lieut. James Harris and in 1721 Harris sold it to Joseph Otis of New London.

Sarah (Denison) Stanton is remembered in her father's will which is dated Nov. 20, 1693. In addition to her marriage gift he gives to her in said will ten pounds and one silver spoon of 10s. price, marked G. D. A. To his dau. Borodell (Denison) Stanton, wife of Thomas' bro. 11 Samuel[2], Capt. Geo. Denison gave, besides what he had given her, five pounds and a silver cup that was sent from England by Uncle John Borodell to Geo. Denison's wife — Lady Ann Borodell. William Denison, third son of Capt. George, who married 10 Sarah[2] Stanton, ninth child of 1 Thomas, inherited his father's homestead in Stonington.

For further records as to 2 Thomas[2] and his wife see Historical Part. The date of their marriage has not been found and the list of their children has been secured with difficulty. The following is believed to be nearly or quite correct. See however Appendix for (D) John.

CHAPTER III.

THE DESCENDANTS OF THOMAS[1] STANTON'S SECOND SON, CAPT. JOHN[2] STANTON.

3 John[2] Stanton, b. 1641, in Hartford, Conn.; m. 1664, HANNAH THOMPSON; d. Oct. 31, 1713, in Stonington, Conn. 3 John[2] Stanton was a pupil of that famous old school teacher of the Puritans, Elijah Corlet. In 1654, he and John Minor, son of Thomas Minor, were selected by the Court of Commissioners to be educated for teachers of the Gospel to the Indians. Both young men, however, ultimately left their studies, and devoted themselves to other pursuits.

In 1664, John[2] Stanton became the first Recorder of the town of Southertown (now Stonington). The same year he married Hannah Thompson. She was, undoubtedly, either a daughter or sister of Rev. William[2] Thompson, Jr., whose father was Rev. Wm.[1] Thompson of Braintree, Mass. The younger William was appointed in 1657, to be a missionary to the Pequots, and resided in Stonington and New London until 1663, when he went to Surry Co., Virginia. He is believed to have returned and died in Stonington, as his grave is in the old burial ground at Wicketequack Cove.

Feb. 18, 1675, John[2] Stanton was commissioned captain of one of the four Connecticut regiments in King Philip's War. He served with distinction in this war, and was in command at the time of the capture of Canonchet, the chief sachem of all the Narragansetts. This service was acknowledged by the "Courte" in the remittance of a fine imposed in 1675. The circumstance was as follows: He, as agent of Stonington, with five selectmen (of whom Thomas[3] Stanton was one), presented a petition and protest to the General Assembly of Connecticut, on behalf of the town. They protested against certain laws deemed by them unjust to their rights, peace and liberty. For so doing, one of them, Capt. Denison, was fined 10 pounds, and forbidden to hold office. Another one, Mr. John Stanton, "the towne's agent, for management of his agency, is fined ten pounds for that boldness, to be paid at the latter end of summer, at Boston, in money or corn, according to order." Meanwhile came the war, and in May, 1677, the fine not yet paid, was revoked.

May 10, 1710, a deed of trust was executed in favor of Capt. John Stanton and four others, by which the eastern part of the Mohegan lands was forever settled on the Mohegan tribe, under the regulation of said five and their successors, "so long as there shall be any Mohegans found or known of alive in the world."

For litigation that arose from this and for further notes as to Capt. John, see Historical Part.

The children of Capt. John[2] and Hannah (Thompson) Stanton, were:

137 I JOHN[3], b. May 22, 1665; m. Mary ——.
138 II JOSEPH[3], b. Jan. 22, 1668; m. Margaret Cheseboro, July 18, 1696.
139 III THOMAS[3], b. April, 1670; m. his cousin, 24 Anna[3], 1692.
IV ANN[3], b. Oct. 1, 1673; d. March 23, 1680.
140 V THEOPHILUS[3], b. June 16, 1676; m. Elizabeth Rogers, June 5, 1698.
VI DOROTHY[3], b. , 1680; d. "in travail," April 28, 1699.

"A few years before his death, Capt. John[2] Stanton gave his real estate to his sons by deed, as follows: to Joseph[3] he gave the homestead farm in Stonington; to John[3] and Thomas[3] he gave all his lands in Preston. Theophilus[3] was not living then. John[3] and Thomas[3] settled on the lands in Preston. His will, dated in 1713, confirms these gifts of land. In 1737, his son John[3], then of Preston, applied to the Probate Court in New London, for an equitable division of the Preston lands between him and his brother Thomas[3]." The homestead farm in Stonington is on the banks of the Mystic river. The site of Capt. John's mansion is still to be seen. His farm of 300 acres adjoined John Gallup's on the west and Capt. George Denison's on the north. A map of it, made by Capt. Denison in 1661, in connection with his own and other farms, is still in possession of the Denison family living on their ancestral homestead. The Pe-quot-se-pos brook was the dividing line between the Stanton and Denison lands. The present owner of Capt. John's lands is Joseph Stanton Williams whose mother was a Stanton. It has never passed out of possession of the family. A few years ago, in opening a gravel bank near the site of Capt. John's house, the laborers came to a space about six by eight feet, well stoned, containing a few portions of bones. Dr. Geo. D. Stanton visited the place and is of the opinion that it was the burying place of Capt. John and his family.

FOURTH GENERATION IN THE LINE OF 3 CAPT. JOHN[2].

137. John[3] Stanton (son of 3 John[2]), b. May 22, 1665; lived in Preston on lands given him by his father. His will, dated Feb. 13, 1747, was admitted to probate in Norwich, Conn., July 7, 1755. His wife MARY, and his son JABEZ, were the executors. His children were recorded in Preston without the parents' names, as follows:

141 I JOHN[4], b. Nov. 13, 1706; m. Desire Denison in 1735.

They lived in Stonington on the Stanton homestead farm which he inherited from his father. When married he was 28 years old and she 19. He died in 1751, without a will, and his estate was divided among his three sons and four daughters then living. His children were:

148 I HANNAH[4], b. Dec. 15, 1698; m. Wm. Morgan, Jr., Sept. 21, 1721.
